

GRAFT CHARGES STIR NORFOLK

GUARD COURSE TO BE PURSUED BY GRAND JURY MAY RECOGNIZE WOMEN IN ARMY TOTS PAINTFULLY BURIED MOVE AFOOT TO ALLOW THEM TO JOIN SERVICE

Names of Witnesses to Give Evidence at Probe of Corruption Charges Against Police Department Unknown and Mystery Surrounds Situation.

(By The Associated Press)
NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 15.—The course to be pursued by the special grand jury in the investigation of graft charges against the police department when it reconvenes Tuesday afternoon is being closely guarded. Efforts to ascertain the names of witnesses likely to be called by David Hepburn's attorneys against the police department were futile this morning. About all that could be learned is that in all likelihood, the witnesses who will be called in pursuance of the investigation are local men in no way touch with the work of the department. Virtually all the men who were known to be in touch with the alleged conditions which brought about the so-called expose of the Anti-Saloon league leader have been heard by the jury. Federal agents J. L. Asher, "Lone Wolf" of the dry forces, and Francis Herzig, his partner, who are supposed to have gathered the evidence upon which the charge that the police department is shot through with graft, in evidence to the body yesterday afternoon just before it adjourned to meet at 3 o'clock Tuesday. Dr. Hepburn, R. A. Fulwiler, state prohibition director, and J. M. Hough, local Anti-Saloon leader, had previously testified. This leaves to be developed only what evidence can be adduced from local witnesses. Whether these witnesses, whose names are not being divulged, will be those officially connected with the department, or those whose reputation in the city's underworld would permit them to qualify as witnesses to conditions in the department, cannot be learned. It is commonly supposed that Chief of Police S. W. Ironmonger and Director of Public Safety C. B. Borland will be called by the jury so that they may "brother" records of men who have been dismissed from the service for alleged corruption, and to give their opinion of the sensational charges made against their department. Chief Ironmonger already has appeared before the jury for a few minutes to submit a copy of the statement of Dr. Hepburn which caused the appointment of the grand jury.

ARGUMENTS IN BIG OIL SUIT ARE RESUMED

Much Discussed "Little Black Satchel" Dragged Into Case Again

(By The Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—The "little black satchel" of the Senate oil investigation still loomed large on the stage of the government's Elk Hills lease cancellation suit as arguments were resumed in federal court today but it was playing a dual role. Because it once contained $100,000 in currency loaned by E. L. Doheny to former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall, the little satchel became a symbol of the government's allegation that the leases and contracts it seeks to cancel were obtained from Fall for Doheny's Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company by conspiracy and fraud. But yesterday Frank J. Hogan, opening arguments for the defense, dragged the much-discussed satchel into court as a battering ram to demolish the government's case. Picturing the 30 years of friendship that preceded Doheny's loan to Fall, the hardships they endured together and the friendship that has since then, Hogan declared that the $100,000 loan was "a personal transaction" and that it was "a matter of friendship and not of business." Hogan expected to conclude his argument.

GIRL ASKED TO SHOW JURY INJURED KNEE

(By Universal Service.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Exhibit A—in this case the injured knee of a girl—was put out of evidence today by Judge William Gammill who is trying the girl's $20,000 damage suit against a trucking company. "Can you show the court your knee?" he asked. "Yes," she answered. "That won't be necessary." The physicians report was to be considered sufficient.

TOWN TOPICS

Mayor Harry Wooding has been authorized to announce as commander of the Cabell Graves Camp United Confederate Veterans that all veterans in Danville will be admitted free of charge to the address to be made here next Tuesday night by Guyton Borglum, the sculptor, at Rison park auditorium. Mr. Borglum is appearing here under the auspices of the high school Parent-Teachers' Association.

R. W. Kneebone who has been in Danville staging preliminaries for the Community Chest drive which begins next Monday is leaving today for Charleston, S. C., where he will make a survey on the need of such a campaign in that city in behalf of the American City Bureau.

The Music Study Club which each Fall brings to Danville high class musical talent, has secured the services of John Powell, the celebrated Virginia pianist, who is to give a recital at Randolph Macon Academy. Mr. Powell has been coming to Danville almost annually for several years, usually under the auspices of this organization.

Edward R. Diggs, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, returned yesterday from a week's trip to Richmond and Washington. It was during his absence that he was enabled to secure the promise of three war trophies for this city.

Further Probe of Rates to Be Made

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—A further hearing in the interstate commerce commission's southern class rate investigation was announced by the commission today for December 15 at Atlanta. The hearing was called for results of the traffic tests conducted in conducted in April to give the carriers an opportunity to ascertain the effects upon their revenues of rates recommended in the proceeding month. It was introduced into the commission's records. Supplementary briefs on the result of the tariff test will be accepted by the commission up until January 15. Oral argument in the proceedings was assigned for January 14 to 16 inclusive, at Washington before the commission.

BELIEVE NEW INJUNCTION IS BEING SOUGHT

Further Development In Bond Litigation Is Now Anticipated.

Attorneys of this city who are resisting efforts to have the June bond issue elections declared invalid were today waiting for some understanding Richmond where they are. John V. Carter, attorney for the contestants has gone apparently for the purpose of securing an injunction from the Supreme court of Virginia, restraining the city from issuing the bonds provided for under ordinances adopted last Monday night by the council. Mr. Carter has been away for several days at Baltimore and Richmond. City Attorney Aiken said today he had been advised that the purpose of Mr. Carter's visit to Richmond was to secure an injunction. Engrly made at the offices of the Supreme court this afternoon however elicited from the attendant in charge that he could recall no action taken recently in regard to any Danville bond proceeding. At last Monday night's meeting of the council Harry C. Ficklen and those joining him in the litigation served notice that the council would be held responsible for the issue of the bonds and that they would resort to the courts to prevent their issue. It has since then, however been made clear that the city while it probably could issue and sell the bonds without waiting for any definite court conclusions, is not disposed to do so until the litigation is determined and the "legal cloud" which might have a depressing effect on bids for the bonds, has been dissipated.

Death Toll In Java Earthquake Estimated at 300

(By The Associated Press)
BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 15.—The death toll in the earthquake which shook the central portion of the island of Java last Wednesday is estimated in official circles at 300, although private reports indicate that as many as 600 persons may have perished. Villages are completely isolated by floods. The damage to property at Wonosobo exceeds $120,000. The islands are trembling from slight shocks. It is generally understood here that the shake of not a volcanic character but due to shifting of earth layers.

CHILDREN IN ROOM ALONE CATCH FIRE

Playing in Fire, Painful Experiment to Emerson Boys

The constant menace of fire to small children was again exemplified in Danville this morning when the two young sons of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Emerson, 120 Park Avenue, were painfully burned. In some way one of the children secured a small quantity of gasoline and threw some of it into the open fire. The immediate flare back of the igniting fluid sprayed both boys with flames and their clothing caught fire immediately. Mrs. Emerson who had left the room momentarily heard the screams and rushing in at once attacking the flames she succeeded in tearing the clothes which had not fully ignited, from each child and by this prompt action unquestionably saved both children from injuries which might have resulted in death. Mrs. Emerson sustained painful burns about the hands and arms while she was rescuing her children.

Dr. J. L. Jennings received the call and at once hastened to the home. He found both children burned about the arms, the face, ears and with much of their hair singed off. The physician expressed the belief that the area burned was not sufficient to produce fatal results but each boy would be hand-aged and given the best treatment being given to ward off any complication which might come.

Community Chest Question Box

I give through my church. The Community Chest gives a practical expression to the spirit which is behind every religion. Keep on giving to your church and all its departments because it is right, but remember there are other practical works which also have their demands.

I prefer to give direct to those in need. Are you sure you can do the less fortunate as much good by your individual gift as if it were expended for you by one of the nine agencies in the Chest? These agencies have the equipment and trained workers who can multiply the value of your gift many times over what it would be worth as a direct offering, merely handed by you to the needy. Such gifts, without the backing of organized and sustained effort, often do more harm than good. Do you want to give in the organized and effective way in which it has been shown these agencies do their work?

JUNIUS WEST NOT CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

Will Seek Nomination to Succeed Himself as Lieut. Governor

(By The Associated Press)
RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 15.—Lieutenant Governor Junius E. West will not be a gubernatorial candidate in the democratic primaries next August, he will seek the nomination to succeed himself, he announced in a statement issued here today. "The assurances of support for governor of Virginia," the statement declared that I have received from every section of the State and especially in a large number from the Tidewater section of Virginia, have been exceedingly gratifying and are very much appreciated, but I have definitely decided after very mature consideration to be a candidate for that position in the August, 1925 primary. The considerations impelling this decision are largely personal. "I shall, however, be a candidate to succeed myself as lieutenant governor, and I very much hope that my fellow citizens will support me in this high office, will warrant Virginia's democracy in nominating me without opposition."

DEATH OF EUGENE MAJOR The remains of Eugene Major, aged 18, who died yesterday at Staunton, arrived in the city at noon today and were conveyed to his former home, 234 Henry street. Mr. Major went to Staunton recently to undergo a mastoid operation, death resulting from a complication. The funeral services had not been arranged early this afternoon, but it was stated that interment would take place sometime tomorrow afternoon.

AGED COINS DUG UP IN PATRICK CEMETERY

(Special to The Bee.)
STUART, Va., Nov. 15.—The recovery of a quantity of gold and silver coins of Colonial date is reported from Patrick cemetery on the property of J. V. Tatum. The discovery was made accidentally. John S. Weddle, representing a Winston-Salem marble company was recently awarded a contract to erect a monument in the family burying ground on the Tatum estate. It was necessary to dig into the earth to secure a foundation for the monument. The pick and shovel revealed the board of silver and gold lying loose in the ground. Some of the coins have been burned and their bear date, ranging from 1776 to 1858. It is believed that this is part of family treasure which was buried in the family vault during the Civil War. Work is now proceeding with the utmost care in the hope that further coins and perhaps other treasure may be revealed.

THREE SOUGHT IN CLEVELAND'S DOUBLE MURDER

Police Abandon Old Theory and Seek Members of Hi-Jacking Gang

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 15.—The theory that Louis Rosen, 23 Cleveland street, and Adolph Anderson, 23 Philadelphia, his brother-in-law, today concentrated their hunt on theory that Louis Rosen, 23 Cleveland street, was a member of the famous Ringgold Battery, and he fought through many of the epic engagements of the war, being present at the surrender at Appomattox. Before that he had witnessed another historic episode—the trial of John Brown, at Harper's Ferry, being with a group of V. M. I. officers at the time of the trial. He returned to Danville and took up the pursuits of peace. He conducted a large grocery business and at one time was in partnership with the late John F. Rison and the Danville Cigarette Company. He was elected captain and he retained that post for many years. Captain Robinson was for years an active member of the Cabell Graves Camp, U. D. C. and maintained throughout his life an advocacy for the cause for which he fought and interest in Confederate affairs. He was at the time of death a member of Cabell Street Methodist church.

Captain Robinson was married to Miss Blanche Snyder who died here year ago last January after a long illness. They were an exceptionally devoted couple and the passing of his wife is believed by friends to have hastened his end. All of whom have done well, and who today occupy important posts in the fields they chose. William B. Robinson of Oklahoma, Percy S. Robinson of Detroit and Walter Robinson of Baltimore. All of the sons with the exception of William B. Robinson who is too far distant to arrive in time for the funeral will be here to attend the obsequies.

FOUR PERSONS DEAD 18 HURT IN RY. WRECK

Coach Leaves Rails and Topples Over—Making Inquiry

(By The Associated Press)
WABASSO, Fla., Nov. 15.—Four persons were dead today, eighteen others injured, two of them seriously, as the result of a rear coach on the Florida East Coast Railway train being derailed near here last night. Officials today were investigating the cause of the wreck. The dead are: Mrs. A. Laney, 30, Detroit, Michigan; Miss Lizzie Foxton, Alpena, Michigan; Miss Ruby Stone, 55, Northfield, Vermont; and an unidentified baby. The baby is believed to be the child of Mrs. Laney, who was killed. The coach after leaving the rails was carried a distance of 300 feet before it toppled over, hurling passengers through windows and pinning them within the car. The accident hurried scores of people from here to the scene to give assistance and physicians and nurses were rushed from the nearby towns of Sebastian, Fort Pierce and Vero. The train was southbound and was making a half hour late at the time the wreck it was said. Officials of the road do not believe that faulty rails were responsible for the accident.

CAPT. ROBINSON AGED RESIDENT, ANSWERS CALL

Remains of Confederate Veteran Expected to Arrive in Morning

The body of Captain William Pleasant Robinson, who died last night, is expected to arrive here at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning for interment in this city. The arrangements for the funeral had not been completed late this morning, according to Dr. T. L. Sator, his brother-in-law, who received the telegram last night announcing the death.

Captain Robinson was eighty-two years of age and one of Danville's oldest citizens. He had been in failing health for more than a year and about six months ago he went to the Old Soldier's Home in Richmond. During a long and active life in this community he saw much history written and until the infirmities of old age overcame him, maintained a high degree of interest in the life of the community in which he had lived since boyhood. He was born in Chesterfield county, his father being William Robinson, his mother being Rebecca Robinson, nee Magruder. Removal of the family to Danville was during the early life of Captain Robinson and he received his education in this city. At the time the Civil War broke out he was a student at Virginia Military Institute, and like scores of boys then in that institution, he at once volunteered for service even though he was still in his teens. Too young at first to be sent to the front, he was assigned the task of recruiting at the Fair Grounds at Richmond, a duty for which he was peculiarly fitted by reason of his military training. It was not long, however, before the thirst for battle overcame him and he enrolled a member of the famous Ringgold Battery, and he fought through many of the epic engagements of the war, being present at the surrender at Appomattox.

Before that he had witnessed another historic episode—the trial of John Brown, at Harper's Ferry, being with a group of V. M. I. officers at the time of the trial. He returned to Danville and took up the pursuits of peace. He conducted a large grocery business and at one time was in partnership with the late John F. Rison and the Danville Cigarette Company. Good Morning Judge!

Four cases were acted on in the police court this morning. C. G. Cox drew a fine of $11 and costs for a violation of the parking ordinance on a fine of $5 and costs was imposed on C. G. Crawley, colored, on a charge of creating a disturbance. A charge of reckless driving against C. O. Perkins was dismissed.

2 STABBED AT DANCE HALL

Two Arrested After Disturbance With Klan and Anti-Klan Forces

(By The Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15.—Two men were held in jail here today for investigation in connection with a disturbance with alleged Klan and anti-Klan forces in a local dance hall last night which resulted in two men being stabbed, one probably seriously. Harry France, one of the two held for investigation, was stabbed in the abdomen when fighting broke out following eviction of an unknown man from the hall. Clarence McCammon, salesman for a Ku Klux Klan publication, is alleged to have caused the eviction of the man. McCammon is being held. Arthur Bard, 33, was taken to a hospital with wounds in the head. Fighting was stopped only after four policemen had held the crowd into the street.

MURPHY SWEARS HE IS MEMBER OF THE "POOL"

"Raid" Victim Makes Affidavit and Pays Liquidated Damages

An unexpected development came today in the wake of the "raid" made on Planter's warehouse early last Thursday morning when Thomas Murphy, owner of the tobacco which was removed, came to Danville and made an affidavit affirming his belief in the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association and declaring his intention of adhering to his contract. The affidavit further sets forth his belief that the tobacco in question belongs to the pool. A copy of the letter was secured from R. N. Williams, manager of the Producers' receiving station. It is as follows: "State of Virginia, City of Danville—To-wit: 'This day personally appeared before me, Thomas Murphy, who made oath before me in my said city, that he is a member of the Hinesville local Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association and that he went before the executive committee of the said Hinesville local association and declared his intention of adhering to his contract. Title Hopes of Star Football Teams in Balance Today

RIVALS OF OTHER YEARS CLASH IN SOUTH TODAY

(By The Associated Press.)
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 15.—Turning back the pages of the football calendar one year shows comparatively few of the teams, playing this afternoon, in action under the same circumstances last year.

Several of today's games were between established rivals of other years whose engagements in recent years have been interrupted for on reason or another.

Georgia defeated Auburn last season, 7 to 0, this being something of an informal and unofficial score for games between the Bull Dogs and Plainsmen.

Y. P. I. won from Virginia at Charlottesville 6 to 3 but today the Cavaliers are at Blacksburg, visiting the home of the Gobblers for the first time in a score of years.

Tennessee took the measure of Tulane 13 to 2 but if the Volunteers repeat such a triumph this afternoon over the Green Wave, it will be an upset ranking with the exciting surprises of last week-end.

Washington and Lee was well nigh annihilated by West Virginia on its last excursion into the mountains, the score being 64 to 0 and today's score will not reach that peak. It is expected by supporters of the Generals, undefeated in the Southern Conference.

Wake Forest's victory over Elin last season was by the scant margin of 9 to 6, but should be greater this year on the showing of the two teams thus far.

Richmond emerged triumphant over Hampden-Sidney by one point, 7 to 6, and Bernier's team is given a good chance to show improvement today. Another exciting game was between William and Mary and Roanoke, the latter winning 9 to 7. Both have been going great guns in their 1924 games.

Maryland defeated North Carolina State in a free scoring game 26 to 12 but after the Wolfpack's defeat of V. P. I. anything may be expected today.

Centenary goes to Boston to try to wipe out a 14 to 0 defeat suffered at the hands of Boston college last season.

Wesleyan came out of Kentucky to down Emory and Henry 33 to 0.

Some of the impressive scores in games last year were Carson-Newman's 47 to 6 defeat of Milligan and Louisville State's 40 to 0 subduing of Normal.

FOOTBALL QUESTIONS

If You Have Some Question to Ask About Football Write—
LAWRENCE PERRY,
Special Football Correspondent of The Bee, 614 World Building, New York

QUESTION—On the fourth down of the Center-West Virginia game West Virginia punted from her forty yard line, the ball rolling to the five yard line with a Center man following and watching it. As the ball stopped rolling a West Virginia man came up the field and fell on the ball, play was resumed it was Center's ball.

(1) Why didn't Center back pick up and run it back? (2) Why didn't the West Virginia man pick it up and run it over the goal? (3) Why center's ball when West Virginia recovered it?

ANSWER—(1) Because since Center player expected ball to roll over the goal for a touchback when ball could have been taken out to the twenty-five yard line.

(2) Because since ball had not been touched by Centre the West Virginia man was offside and could not run with it.

(3) Because the ball had not been touched by Centre. West Virginia was thus offside. The West Virginia player merely fell on the ball to keep it from going over the Centre's goal line instead of the twenty-five.

Big Crowd In Blacksburg For V. P. I.-Va. Game

(By The Associated Press.)
BLACKSBURG, Va., Nov. 15.—The largest crowd that ever witnessed a football contest in Blacksburg was here for the contest this afternoon between the University of Virginia Cavaliers and Virginia Polytechnic Institute's Gobblers. The first ever played between the two institutions on the local field. Five thousand extra bleacher seats have been erected to take care of the many old graduates of the two schools. The Cavaliers with a large contingent of the student body at the university, arrived here shortly before noon and Coach Earle Neal said he would use the same lineup as started the Georgia game last week. The Gobblers will be without the services of Bailey and Esleek. Bailey broke his collar bone and Esleek sprained an ankle in practice Monday.

Princeton-Yale Contest Holding Interest In East

(By The Associated Press.)
PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 15.—Football's most ancient rivals, Princeton and Yale, meet here today in the semi-final event of the "Big Three" championship. Yale, winner of the 1923 championship, Princeton, winner of the 1924 championship, will meet in the "Big Three" title together with the eastern collegiate championship in 1923, has a record unblemished by defeat while Princeton has seen its standards lowered by Notre Dame.

Palmer memorial stadium will be filled with rosters when the opening kick-off comes at 2 o'clock. Yale has sent a confident delegation of thousands with the college band. The Tiger cohorts, on their home grounds, declare Yale will suffer the fate of Harvard.

The Eli eleven enters the fray on almost even terms despite the Tigers' overwhelming victory over Harvard because of Princeton's early season failures.

NOTRE DAME-NEBRASKA GAME HOLDS INTEREST OF MIDDLE WEST FANS

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The Notre Dame-Nebraska game at the Southbend, Ind., claimed first interest in middlewestern collegiate football circles today. With the Illinois-Minnesota contest at Minneapolis, the chief western conference meeting, showed inot secondary position. The other conference games involving a Big Ten leader in the championship race looked like easy victory for Chicago over Northwestern.

The national football title hopes of the undefeated Notre Dame team were in the balance against Nebraska, as was the Southland eleven's desire to cast down a two year jinx which, in the form of unexpected defeat by the Corn Huskers, prevented California of National Honors in 1922 and again last year.

It was the ninth meeting of the rivals and each has won four times. Conditions of the field and weather were ideal at Minneapolis for Harold "Red" Grange, the Illinois sensational back, to accomplish some of his famous sprints. The Gophers were given but a slim chance of doing much as a result of their tie with Ames last week.

Chicago was a decided favorite in its traditional battle with Northwestern here. Northwestern had a crippled lineup with an open attack centering around the fleet Ralph Baker.

A record conference attendance was in prospect for the Buckeye forty ninth annual homecoming at Columbus, with Ohio State host to Michigan. Odds favored the Wolverines.

Wisconsin's homecoming fans saw the Badgers, damaged in prestige by defeats from Michigan and Notre Dame, play host to the heavier Iowa Hawkeyes. The outcome of the clash had little influence on the conference race, since both usually were eliminated in previous games.

Indiana and Wabash had great state issues involved in their meeting at Bloomington. Purdue was on a vacation.

Kearns to Erect New Big Arena in California

(By The Associated Press.)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, is planning to break into the boxing and six-day bicycle racing business in California. Kearns said he had closed contracts for the service of Abe Goldstein, Benny Leonard, Mickey Walker, Gene Tunney, Johnny Dundee, George Godfrey, Jack Renault, Charles Weinert and other star boxers.

In the six day bicycle field contract had been made with Goulette and other riders, the fight manager announced.

The city in which the proposed arena will be located was not stated. After passage November 4 of an initiative measure permitting ten and twelve round boxing in California, it was said here that he had secured Kearns had ordered the sale of their real estate holdings to obtain money with which to promote fights.

Marullo Wins Decision Over Battling Siki

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Young Marullo, New Orleans, light heavyweight, scored an unimpressive 12 round victory over Battling Siki, Senegalese pugilist and former holder of the world's light heavyweight title, at Madison Square Garden last night. The negro fought an aggressive fight but his indifference and his clownish antics in the ring evidently had their effect on the judges, who gave the decision to Marullo. The decision was unpopular to the small crowd and a mild demonstration of disapproval was voiced.

SEVEN BIG CONTESTS ON EASTERN GRID PROGRAM

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Seven major contests and a grist of minor teams, all leading up to the final threats of the season, contended for the eastern intercollegiate honors today. The spotlight of interest will be directed on Palmer memorial stadium at Princeton where Tigers and Yale Bull Dog meet in their annual game.

Next in interest will be Cornell's meeting with the undefeated Dartmouth team at the Polo Grounds. At West Point, the Columbia team will meet the Army while in Philadelphia an undefeated Quaker will play Pennsylvania.

Other contests include the Harvard-Brown game at Cambridge, the Navy-Bucknell game at Annapolis, the Pittsburgh-Washington and Jefferson game at Pittsburgh, and the meeting of Amherst and Williams for the championships of the "Little Three" at Amherst, Mass.

Two intercollegiate games of interest also are scheduled in the Detroit-Quantico Marine clash at Detroit and the Boston college-Centenary game at Boston.

The meetings of the Tiger and the Bull Dog will be the major classic of the day. Princeton, smarting under a defeat from Notre Dame and a tie from Lehigh, will enter the lists with confidence owing to its 34 to 0 victory over Harvard at Cambridge last week. Yale, undefeated but tied by Dartmouth and West Point, will depend on a stalwart defense. The Cornell-Dartmouth clash brings together two strong teams.

Princeton, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania and the Army generally are favored to win, but in each instance the opposition is expected to be potent. West Virginia meets Washington and Lee at Charleston in a game of traditional interest.

An interscholastic football rivalry that goes back 47 years, surpassed only by the Yale-Princeton-Harvard one, will be renewed today with the annual game between Phillips Exeter and Phillips Andover academies at Andover. It will be the 44th contest.

Among other games scheduled are: Hamilton vs. Union at Schenectady; Colgate vs. Springfield at Hamilton and Rutgers vs. New York university at New York.

MAN, 79, SAYS DANCING PUT 10 YRS. TO LIFE

Youth of Four Score Years Spry as Any Cake-Eater

(By Universal Service.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Julius Moldenhauer of Hartford, Conn., a youth of seventy-nine, dished down the gang plank of the Liner Oscar 2nd today. He danced all over Europe and was going home to dance a lot more.

"Why, son, it has added ten years to my life and completely removed my 'bay window'." Now I'm as spry and gay as any cake-eater."

Mr. Moldenhauer is the picture of health—six feet and built accordingly, with whiskers and a nimble step he appears to be far from the grave. Although his son is the Rev. Moldenhauer of the Westminster Presbyterian church in Albany and he once occupied the distinguished post of chief advisor to the New York state farm bureau it has in no wise diminished his gayness.

"Son," he said, "I quit dancing 35 years ago because I thought I was getting old. Then I began getting fat and sick. So ten years ago I took it up again and on an extensive scale and I have been fit as a fiddle since."

"I'll say 'extensive scale,'" declared one of the ladies whom he had completely worn down in the ship's ball room.

John Kilonis to Meet Peters Here Next Friday Night

John Kilonis and Cyclone Peters have been matched for a three-fall wrestling bout to be staged in Danville next Friday night, according to an announcement made this morning by L. C. Moody, sports promoter. Both have been here several times during the past season and Kilonis is recalled for the set-to he had with Joe Shimkus.

Moody stated today that a three-round bout under the gloves would be staged as one of the preliminaries. The Danville Military Athletic association which is in process of formation will assume active sponsorship of the athletic bouts starting December 1.

Sousa Observing 70th Birthday

(By The Associated Press.)
CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 15.—Today is Lieut. Commander John Philip Sousa's seventieth birthday and the 68-year-old band leader is expected to be a busy one for the celebrated handmaster. In addition to leading his band in concerts this afternoon and tonight he prepared to attend two birthday parties given in his honor.

A 250 pound cake decorated with 70 candles awaited his arrival at a downtown hotel. Arrangements were made for Lieut. Sousa to cut the cake at a luncheon given by old friends. It also was planned to have a 150 piece school band—the pick of Cleveland's school children—serenade him with pieces of his own composition.

Whisky Cargoes Spill In His Yard By the Wholesale

CANTON, N. Y., Nov. 15.—For the fourth time within a week Deputy Sheriff Robert Holt, who lives on the road between ealab and Heuvelton, trapped a bootlegger's car without going off his doorstep.

The car, loaded with Canadian ale, failed to make the turn in the road in front of Holt's house and crashed into a ditch. It landed bottom up in the deputy's front yard, spilling a cargo of Canadian ale all over the place.

Face Disfigured With Red Pimples Cuticura Heals

"My face broke out with tiny pimples and blackheads. After a while the pimples grew larger and burned a great deal. They were red and feasted, and after severing they would dry up and peel off. The pimples itched badly and I could hardly sleep on account of the irritation. I was a sight, my face was so badly disfigured."

"I suffered with pimples for quite a while before I found anything that would relieve them. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in a short time I got relief. I continued the treatment and in three or four months I was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Floyd Banks, R. F. D. 6, Easley, S. C., March 24, 1924.

These fragrant emollients are all you need for all toilet purposes. Soap to cleanse, Ointment to heal and Talcum to powder.

AFTER BABY WAS BORN

Back Weak and Painful Mrs. Miller Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Rotan, Texas.—"I am writing to let you know how I have been benefited by taking your medicine. After my second baby was born my back was weak and hurt me continually. I thought I'd try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I had read so much about where it had helped so many women. I had been bothered with my back for over a year, and it would hurt me until I could not do my work, which is keeping house for three and cooking and washing dishes. I tell all my friends if they have any kind of female trouble to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. You may use this testimonial if it will help any one."—Mrs. C. R. MILLER, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 76, Rotan, Texas.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over 121,000 replies were received, and 98 out of every 100 reported they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Averett Romps Away From R. M. I.

Averett College girls' basketball quintet romped away from the Randolph-Macon Institute team yesterday afternoon on the latter's floor. The score was 26 to 19.

It was the first game of the season for both quintets, and the coaches were given the first chance to locate the defects of their teams' offensive and defensive work.

Averett College girls were jubilant over the victory. They sang, pioused and cheered at the college campus on South Main Street last night. President J. B. Craft officially gave the girls' permission to celebrate in the immediate neighborhood.

Not all was gloom at R. M. I., however. A second game, the next time on the Averett floor, is to be played, and the R. M. I. girls let it be known last night, that there will be a complete reversal of form in the next conflict.

Misses Gravitt and Marshall tossed the ball through the basket with almost unerring skill for Averett. The victor's team work was pronounced first rate for the opening game.

The lineup:
Averett P. R. M. I.
C. C. Bridgforth
Pankey R. F. Peters
Gravitt S. C. Sumner
Walker L. F. Purcell
Marshall R. G. MacDonough
Montroy L. G. Cowell
Garland

Averett College basketball quintet will meet Blackstone school next week. A game with Chatham Episcopal is also contemplated. Exact dates for both of these games will be decided upon early next week.

Miss Frances Sumate is coaching the Averett team. Miss Evan Lacey of South Boston, who refereed the Friday game, will officiate at the Halifax county championship contests next week.

Tonight, President J. B. Craft will be host to the basketball two as he compliments to the team defeating R. M. I.

Randolph Macon Beats Lynchburg

(By The Associated Press)
RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 14.—A field goal by Crouse from the 45 yard line during the first quarter of their game here today against the Hornets, of Lynchburg College gave the Randolph-Macon Yellow Jackets their first gridiron victory of two seasons 3 to 0.

The lone tally of the contest was the result of a recovered Lynchburg fumble which gave the Jackets possession of the ball in Hornet territory. Two line plunges by Lewis and a pass, Marks to Bell placed the ball in scoring position and Crouse dropped back for a try from placement. The ball went fairly through the goal posts for the three point margin of victory just before time was called at the end of the first period.

Marked by many tumblers and intercepted forward passes, today's game was the kind in which anything can happen and the outcome was uncertain until the final whistle. The Hornets, however, were unable to maintain a sustained attack and although Crouse played a beautiful game for the Ashland eleven, threatening time and again to break away from a whole field of tacklers, the Yellow JJackets failed to score again.

Walter Camp got as far west as Chicago recently in looking for All-America material. It is said Mr. Camp was shocked at the absence of prairie schooners, war dances and cattle-traders.

VERSATILE GUY

FERD WELLMAN

The "Iron Man" of Purdue University is the name given to Ferd Wellman of Port Recovery, O.

Wellman played fullback on the Purdue freshman football team of 1920 but left school to recover from two broken vertebrae in his neck while returning in 1921 and won his numeral as fullback on the freshman eleven. The following year he won his letter, playing fullback on the varsity.

Last season he was shifted to end, playing a stellar game at that position. This year he is being used at tackle and playing up to his standard. He's a versatile young man.

In basketball he is a letter man. Recently he was elected captain of the 1924-25 Purdue basketball team.

D. M. I. Will Meet Randolph Macon

D. M. I. faces the strong Randolph-Macon Academy eleven at Bedford this afternoon, while the Danville High school team is idle today.

After the score, the team administered to the Reidsville, N.-C. High school last Saturday, much of the self confidence that was shaken in the Blackstone Military academy game the previous week, was restored. The cadets are primed to make a last ditch stand against Randolph-Macon, although realizing the odds are against them.

The high school squad will be in action again next Saturday against South Boston at South Boston after three weeks of idleness. No game was scheduled for today, although up until yesterday, Athletic Director Wilson tried in vain to arrange a game. He found on inquiries that the teams appealed to had games already scheduled. Unfortunately for the team, the open date followed the Roanoke game, which was cancelled when it was seen that the Danville High would be utterly outclassed by the Roanoke team.

The boys have been taking things easy as a result but Coach Keck will get the team down to earnest scrimmage and drill practice next week in preparation for the South Boston game.

U. OF VIRGINIA-V. P. I. GAME HOLDS THE ARENA

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 14.—Although tomorrow is a rather lean day in southern conference circles, only fourteen of the 22 members coming together, there are many games in which unusual interest centers to make the program attractive for football followers. The day will bring a clash between leading teams in the southern conference and the S. I. A. A. several intercollegiate games are on tap and community contests of note stand out.

Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech are meeting for the first time since 1920 and alumni of both institutions are reported on their way to Atlanta to witness the renewal of the argument. Both teams have suffered the hard side of the hand of fate and will be shy some stars at the start.

The game in which much feeling will be injected is that between the University of Virginia and V. P. I. at Blacksburg. Virginia has been defeated by Washington and Lee and Georgia, while V. P. I. suffered a rude shock last Saturday when North Carolina State turned the Sobbiers back.

The University of South Carolina plays Sewanee in Columbia in a game attracting much attention. Sewanee broke into the victory class by defeating the University of Mississippi, while the Carolina Game Cocks have won from North Carolina State, Clemson and the University of North Carolina. V. M. I. goes for Lexington, Va. to Lexington, Ky. to play Kentucky State, the Cadets having lost three

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Princeton Tiger that chewed Harvard to pieces a week ago in one of the most startling gridiron upsets of all time will attempt to claw his way to victory over the Bull Dog of Yale tomorrow in Palmer Stadium.

While Bill Roper's rejuvenated Orange and Black tornado is battling for the big three championship in the most colorful feature of the eastern gridiron calendar, two other games claim a major share of the spot light with Cornell and Dartmouth waging their annual fray on a neutral field, the Polo Grounds, while Pennsylvania fights to keep her slate clean against Penn State's attack at Philadelphia.

Close to 200,000 may witness this outstanding trio of contests. Princeton, Dartmouth and Pennsylvania are picked generally as slight favorites in these battles but none has a decided edge.

West Virginia and Washington and Jefferson figure to triumph in two other games possessing traditional interest, the former against Washington and Lee and the Presidents against the Pittsburgh Panthers.

The service teams both have strong opposition with the Army playing Columbia at West Point and Navy tackling Bucknell at Annapolis, but the Cadets and Middies are favorites to win.

Two intercollegiate games, one between Bo Millan's Centenary College eleven and Boston College and the other involving the Quantic Marines and Detroit University, enliven the program.

Other games include Brown-Harvard, Niagara-Syracuse, Williams-Amherst, Bates-New Hampshire, Bowdoin-Wesleyan, Norwich-Vermont, Rhode Island State-Connecticut State, Rutgers-New York University.

ILLINOIS MAY COME EAST NEXT SEASON

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—A home-and-home game with the leading eastern football teams next fall and in 1926 will be sought by Coach Robert Zupke, of the University of Illinois eleven, it was learned here tonight when the Illinois, entrained for Minneapolis to meet Minnesota Saturday.

As the probable winner of the 1924 western conference championship, Illinois has been considered a likely opponent by several eastern teams for a game in 1925 and it is said overtures have been made by the University of Pennsylvania, which stands alone undefeated among the eastern teams this year, as the Illinois opponent in Philadelphia in 1925.

If the game is scheduled, Coach Zupke and George Huff, directors of athletics, will insist on a home-and-home agreement, so that Pennsylvania may come west to play in the new Illinois stadium with a seating capacity of 67,000 in 1926.

Alumni of both Illinois and Harvard have been working for an agreement for a game next fall between these schools, but the extent of the negotiations has not been revealed. The "Big Ten" football schedule makers meet here December 6 to arrange games for next year.

games and the Wild Cats one less. North Carolina State and Maryland are playing at College Park in something of a consolation affair while Tennessee with no conference victories yet meets Tulane, boasting two.

Washington and Lee goes to Charleston, the University of West Virginia furnishing the opposition, with all to gain and nothing to lose when the Generals think of last year's game when the Mountaineers beat them more than three score points.

Four states have neighborhood quarrels to settle. Clemson and Citadel play at Anderson; North Carolina and Davidson meet at Davidson; the Mississippi Aggies take on Mississippi College and Louisiana State tries out Louisiana Normal.

Florida, defeated by Mercer this afternoon and "Ole Miss" who lost to Furman, have nothing to do tomorrow but go home and rest. Mississippi A. and M. is Florida's next opponent.

Oglethorpe goes on an extended journey to play the University of St. Louis in Missouri. Bo McMillan's Centenary team also plays the role of an invading host, playing Boston College at the Massachusetts seat of learning.

Wofford has a game with Trinity in Durham and Wake Forest will play Elon at Wake Forest. Old rivals the Carolina Game Cocks and the Richmond at Richmond and William and Mary and Roanoke should stage an interesting game at Newport News.

Notre Dame Plays Nebraska Today

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Notre Dame, after crushing every team played this season, meets its annual Nebraska jinx at South Bend tomorrow in the outstanding game of the "west," although Illinois and Chicago, in tilts with conference rivals, will attract considerable attention in their attempt to remain in the western conference championship race.

Nebraska, which upset Notre Dame's claim to football honors of the nation last year by beating the Hoosiers in one of the surprises of the season, is prepared to give Coach Rockne's men the battle of the season.

Michigan will play Ohio State in their annual "grudge" battle, at Columbus, Iowa and Wisconsin will collide at Madison in a homecoming game; Indiana will meet Wabash at Bloomington, while Purdue will take a day off.

HONOR MAN

CAPTAIN R. CLAYPOOL

Captain Ralph Claypool, Purdue's great center, enjoys the distinction of being the only athlete to twice hold the football leadership.

In 1923, Claypool, as captain, was the best center in the Western Conference. His fine work won for him the captaincy for the second year. His re-election established a precedent at Purdue in football. However, his play this year has proved that the honor was well merited.

PENNSYLVANIA FACES HARD SCHEDULE IN '25

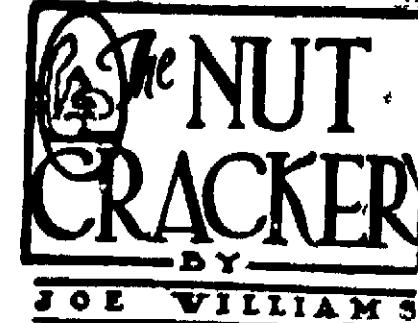

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—With arrangements virtually completed for gridiron contests with the universities of Chicago and Illinois, the University of Pennsylvania football eleven next fall will face one of the hardest schedules in many years, if not in its history.

Home-and-home agreements with the two middle western institutions are expected to be sanctioned today by the Pennsylvania council on athletics.

Under their terms both Chicago and Illinois would come to Franklin next fall, the tentative dates being fixed, respectively, for Oct. 24 and 31. The return game with Illinois would be played in the Illinois stadium in 1926 and that with Chicago in 1927 in the Chicago municipal stadium.

Alabama is claiming the mathematical football championship. This at least shows the boys can be easily satisfied.

It seems unfair to call Red Grange the Babe Ruth of the gridiron. Mr. Grange is fast but he has never been arrested for speeding.

A mathematical football championship is something like a three-dollar suit. It looks pretty but you should never wear it out in the rain.

In view of the humiliating circumstances, the only thing Harvard can do is to drop Princeton from the 1925 schedule.

Nobody ever called Bat Nelson "The Shiek of Flatland," but he was good to look at in the ring just the same.

The French verdict that our national game is silly indicates the baseball will never supplant the highball over there.

A sparkling double play, Friesch to Kelly, may be all very well, but a sparkling burgundy, Garcon to Alphonse, is much better.

Bookmakers are to invade Florida resorts this winter. The competition with the hotelkeepers and the orange grove salesmen ought to be fierce.

All the Washington players are demanding a salary boost. For the first time in history the frugal Mr. Griffith finds himself wishing the team had finished seventh.

Despite Mr. Coolidge's promise of improved conditions we are still buying chestnuts with worms in them.

Bat Siki came to life the other night and knocked a guy out. And the funny part about it was he wasn't throwing coconuts.

Such popularity must be deserved

To convert critics into enthusiasts, whether for a newschool of music or for a cigarette, requires something more than luck. There's sound reason for every big swing in popular taste. So, to account for Chesterfield's swift rise, look to the cigarette itself, its tobaccos, its blending—in short, its taste. This one thing alone—its decidedly better taste—explains why thousands of smokers are changing from other cigarettes to Chesterfield.

THE HILL CASE

The acquittal of Congressman John Philip Hill, of Maryland, who was charged in a test case of violating the Volstead Act by manufacturing cider of an alcoholic content greater than specified by the act, is the most important decision bearing on this act which has yet been rendered. That it will arouse the forces of temperance there can be no doubt. There is evidence that they are guarding on their armor and getting ready to offset a rather significant defeat. Congressman Hill was, of course, no ordinary illicit distiller, by that we mean, he was not clandestinely manufacturing an alcoholic beverage for sale but entered upon the undertaking with a flourish of trumpets and with a frank statement that he courted arrest in the hope that the resulting prosecution would be the vehicle by which Section 30 of the Volstead Act could be passed on definitely by the courts. The net result of the decision rendered by the jury after deliberating for seventeen hours is that cider and wine, in fact any fruit juices can be brewed with impunity in the home and it will remain for a jury trial to determine whether or not such concoctions are intoxicating. Jury service under these conditions should become vastly more interesting than it has hitherto under some-what dry procedure up until this time.

The issue involved in the Hill case was one which has perplexed lawyers but which has never before been put before the courts for a construction. The Volstead Act in one of its early provisions—as we recall it the very first—the limit of legal alcoholic content is placed at one-half of one per cent. Section 30, stipulates that the penalties provided in the act shall not apply to persons manufacturing "non intoxicating cider and fruit juices exclusively for the use in the home." Here then was a trouble maker and one which the law enforcement department of the government has recognized as being a weakening influence. It has been construed as an effort to grant to rural dwellers an exemption which was disallowed the city dweller.

It is well to recall in the Hill case, that the decision just rendered applies only to the state of Maryland and that the question remains an open one in other states.

VOICES FROM THE GRAVE

A chain of industrial museums will be established eventually in this country by a life fund provided in the will of Henry R. Towne. He said his purpose was to show the progress of production on which our civilization rests, also the evolution of inventions and industries.

There are only four other important museums of this sort in the world. They are in Paris, Munich, London and Vienna.

A visit to a Towne industrial museum will be highly educational. And it will start a lot of thought. For one thing, it will make us appreciate the conveniences we take for granted and consider our responsibilities.

The present generation does not realize how fortunate it is. Ask a white-haired old woman who can recall when water was carried in pails instead of through pipes, when there were no gas or electric stoves and kindling had to be chopped to start a fire.

The thermostat, which automatically regulates the temperature of an office, store, factory or home is magical. So are electric frons, telephone, radio, street car, movies. There rises in memory of many a reader the day when bath-tubs were scarce, when

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

Music and Beauty

I am reminded that this would be a rather hard world in which to travel were it not for beauty and music.

A band is playing outside my window. Thousands are gathered about to hear, standing as though entranced. Just a little way beyond is the Salvation Army also playing instruments.

It is strange how music tugs at the strings of one's heart. Let the music stop and a deadness hovers about the silence; no matter how eloquent an orator follows, he cannot hope to magnet as the strains of martial music.

I would like to see the war that could be started or carried on without its bands. Who would enlist?

I saw a football game the other day. My favorite team had been scored upon. There were only a few minutes left in which to play. The under team was fighting with every inch of its might. Just then its college band struck up the college air! And—bang! Over went a touchdown, and defeat gave way to victory.

Without the warmth of music and the thrill of beauty that is so evident all about us, this world would not only become a gray, drab place but life would be harboring dead folks in dreams.

When I am tired and discouraged I want to hear a good brass band or some heavenly violin or flute or harp.

No matter how bad a man may feel inclined to be, if he has music and beauty in his heart he cannot be very bad.

Shakespeare once said that the man who had no music in his soul was fit to be hung, and I think that he was exactly right.

I would rather live in the woods where I might be cheered in the morning with the songs of birds and stilled to sleep at night time by the sweet and almost silent chirps of crickets than all the gold and precious stones in existence.

I like to live with beauty about me, on my walls, in my book-cases, in my garden. I much prefer such possessions to a crate of interest bearing bonds in my safe.

The God I love is the One who made the stars, the grass, the flowers, put the whistle to the wind and whispered to human beings telling them how to organize bands and orchestras.

THE REFEREE

By Albert Apple

PROSPERITY

Steel industry, barometer of general business conditions and individual prosperity, is swiftly climbing back toward full-time operations. Output of pig iron in October was nearly a fifth more than in the month before.

A gigantic boom is apparently approaching, with nothing on the horizon that might stave it off. Railroads, for instance, are handling enormous tonnages of freight, in one recent week breaking all former records.

SPENDING

Politically the nation has overwhelmingly proclaimed by its ballots that it is in a conservative frame of mind.

Unfortunately for all of us, if this conservatism asserts itself in money matters.

Spending is what makes prosperity—keeps factories and stores busy.

DANGEROUS

The most dangerous place to be in an auto, claims a prominent insurance expert. Thirty per cent. of the accidents he investigates occur in autos.

Almost as many accidents (25 per cent. of total) happen in homes. Commonest home accidents are cuts, falling down stairs, slipping from ladders.

However, regardless of where you are, safety is largely a matter of personal caution. Develop the safety-first habit in your children. Worth more than a large cash legacy.

FLORADORA

Ahoy, old-timers! It's just 24 years since the first performance of "Floradora" and its famous double sextet. "Tell me, pretty maiden, are there any more at home like you?" Ah, if they sang it now, the answer would be: "A few, kind sir, but they're not at home—at the movies, dancing and necking."

The theater has changed, hasn't it? But not any more so than the public. The stage is a "pretty reliable mirror of the audiences, especially their morals, faiths and credulity."

TAXES

Motorcars in our country last year paid nearly 472 million dollars in taxes, or an average of $31 apiece.

This total includes everything from licenses, gasoline taxes and personal property taxes to federal excise taxes.

Combined, these taxes amounted to not much more than half of what was spent on the nation's roads. Directly or indirectly, you're helping pay for the roads whether you drive a car or not. Since nearly every family has a car—very few have an unfair burden.

"Colds" are improperly named. They might be better known as "fevers" since they usually bring fever. Apparently they got their popular name because they are most prevalent in cold weather.

After all, we should mark and remember this false notion—the popular saying, "Feed a cold and starve a fever," is a falsified meaning.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

Bud's Lamentation

I wish I had a servant, I wish I had a maid,
When freedom needed men of might,
And there were few to dare and do,
And bravely battle for the right;
I could have crossed the Delaware
With Washington and all his men,
Or stood with George at Valley Forge,
If only I had been living then!

I might have been a famous man
If I had lived in sixty-three,
I could have led a charge ahead
And called my men to follow me.
I might have cheered Abe Lincoln up
When he was troubled and forlorn
And helped a lot, but I could not,
Because I wasn't even born!

I read my history day by day
And think about those warriors bold,
Who fought and bled where blood ran red,
Throughout those glorious days of old.
I might have been a hero too,
A general's cap upon my brow,
But I can't see a chance for me,
There is no work for heroes now!

There's nothing left for me to do,
Old glory safely flies in air,
There is no place for me to show,
No call for heroes anywhere.
I have to add, subtract, divide,
Learn capitals of every state,
And how to spell and scribble well,
And all because I came too late.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

The Affair at Flower Acres

© 1924 by NIA Service Inc. WELLS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Douglas Raynor is found shot through the heart in the early evening on the floor of the sun room of Flower Acres, his long Island home. Standing over the dead man, pistol in hand, is Malcolm Finley, first sweetheart of Raynor's wife, Nancy. Eva Turner, Raynor's nurse, stands by the light switch. Then, Nancy, her brother, Kent, Ezra Goddard, friend of Finley's, Miss Mattie, Raynor's sister, and others enter the room. Lionel Raynor, son of Douglas Raynor by first marriage, comes to claim his father's estate but is forced to reveal that his claim is false. Pennington Wise, a celebrated detective, and Zizi, his girl assistant, are called to take the case out of the hands of Detective Dobbins. Dobbins admits that he suspects Nancy most strongly of the killing.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Well, no, miss. You see, Miss Raynor, now she was on the stairs behind where Miss Turner was—

"But that was after the shot. Miss Mattie didn't leave her room to give her the report, then she started from the east veranda, then Mrs. Raynor started from the west terrace—all these people started because of hearing that shot. Now, I say it could have been fired by Miss Turner, she could have hurried back into the house, and standing in that north door between the house and the sun room, she could have turned on the lights—just as we know she did do—after she had killed her man."

"Well, now, come, you do make it sound plausible—but, no, if she had murdered Raynor, Miss Turner would never have come back here. She would have disappeared entirely from the house."

"It does seem likely," admitted Zizi, "but I wanted to show you that there was—there is a possibility of her being the criminal."

"Oh, Lou, there's a possibility of any of those people who stood at those various doors."

"And each one so agitated, so shocked, that no clear account can be got from any of them."

"That's true," there's Miss Turner now—want to talk to her?"

Zizi did, and Dobbins called the nurse to them.

She was tactful but willing to answer questions. She admitted her attempt to poison Mr. Raynor, but said she didn't mean to kill him; only to make him ill and then promise to give him a large sum of money. "This he had one, and the bonds she had received from him were, she said, compensation for her past ill at his hands."

She had no fears for herself, for though she had poisoned Mr. Raynor, he was not in a position to call her to account—nor was his son, who had stolen the will. Miss Raynor was not a person who would take definite steps and Miss Turner felt sure the law would not harm her even in the event of an accusation.

"But, look here," Zizi said, "if Mrs. Raynor's tablets that she gave to her husband secretly were harmless, what were they?"

"Agonizing—to counteract the effect of the morphine he was taking."

"Well, why wasn't the morphine discovered at the autopsy?"

"Because the atropine and the morphine so counteracted each other that all traces of the poison disappeared. Then they found only the arsenic."

"And you put the arsenic that you had left in a vase in Mrs. Raynor's room to incriminate her?" Zizi's black eyes glared at the tranquil nurse.

"Not for that. I hid them there to get them out of my possession, and I thought the detectives would make such a thorough search."

"I don't know," Eva returned slowly. "When I first came here I hated her. She was Raynor's wife—she had everything that I wanted. You can imagine what a jilted girl feels toward her successful rival. I came prepared to hate her—but I meant no wrong to her. I came here to get satisfaction of one sort or another out of Douglas Raynor. I wanted to make him suffer as much as he had made me suffer. I wanted money, but I also wanted to make him suffer mentally and physically, both. I gave him the arsenic in sufficient doses to scare him and to make him ill—but I didn't mean to kill him. I proposed to stop short of that. Well, then, when Mr. Finley came, I found I could hurt him by suggesting that Mrs. Raynor still cared for Mr. Finley."

"All in all I made Douglas Raynor pretty miserable and I'm glad of it. He hated his anger on his wife—but I couldn't help that. If she did shoot him—it was no more long ago what a jilted girl feels toward her successful rival. I came prepared to hate her—but I meant no wrong to her. I came here to get satisfaction of one sort or another out of Douglas Raynor. I wanted to make him suffer as much as he had made me suffer. I wanted money, but I also wanted to make him suffer mentally and physically, both. I gave him the arsenic in sufficient doses to scare him and to make him ill—but I didn't mean to kill him. I proposed to stop short of that. Well, then, when Mr. Finley came, I found I could hurt him by suggesting that Mrs. Raynor still cared for Mr. Finley."

OVER FIFTEEN MILLION POUNDS OF TOBACCO SOLD

Leaf tobacco sales for the week ended Nov. 13, Thursday inclusive, are officially announced as follows: $1,986,666 pounds for $312,128.36; average $25.38 per cwt.

Sales for the season, October 1st, to 13th inclusive: 14,092,923 pounds for $3,428,049.63; average, $24.31 per cwt.

Yesterday's receipts were lighter than for the two or three preceding days and the auctioneers were enabled to dispose of practical all the tobacco on the warehouse floors.

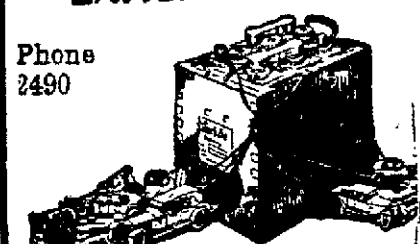

The figures above are furnished by Assistant Secretary and Supervisor of Sales H. W. Stigall.

PLEA TO AVOID "XMAS" IN CHRISTMAS ADVERTISING

The Retail Merchants' association of Danville has renewed its appeal to merchants and to advertisement writers to avoid the habit of abbreviating the word "Christmas" to "Xmas." The plea for the spelling out in full of this word is being made early this year in order that advertisers may avoid having advertising cuts and electrotypes or mats use this abbreviation, which is disapproved by the association. Secretary D. H. Penn is sending out letters on the subject and seeking through all channels of publicity to avoid this abbreviation of a word of so much significance.

"Kicking Down" an Oil Well

Interesting Sketches in Oil No. 7

THOSE of the oil pioneers who could not afford to drill a well by machinery used the "kicking down" method. A pole of ash or hickory was fastened at one end to work over a support. To the other end was fastened a tilting platform, by which the motion of two or three men was made to jerk the springy pole up and down. This motion in turn slightly raised and lowered the drilling tools, attached to the pole, which worked inside a wooden tube. The strokes were rapid, and a sand pump—a spout three inches in diameter, with a hinged bottom and a valve working on a sliding rod—removed the borings by sucking them into the spout at each quick upward jerk. The "kicking down" method was not for weeks. The next step toward better power was the use of horses, and then, in 1860, the steam engine came into general use.

It seems almost impossible nowadays that people of the same world we live in had to labor so hard for a bit of oil. When we can go to the nearest store and buy such wonderful Kerosene as The Red C Oil and The White C Oil, same except in color, we realize how truly fortunate we now are.

Place Accident Blame Without Law

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Chicago is going to try out a new idea—an "informal" arbitration court for motorists.

It won't be part of the regular city and county court system. It is to be operated by the Chicago club of the American Automobile Association.

The court will be held in a special room, built for that purpose, in the new club house of the Chicago Motor Club.

It will be presided over by impartial judges and will be open to all motorists, regardless of whether they are members of the club.

The idea is to settle by arbitration disputes arising from automobile accidents.

Charles M. Hayes, Chicago Motor Club president, tells what the unique court is expected to accomplish:

"It will save motorists thousands of dollars every year in time and legal fees that are spent now in regular court procedure.

"It will relieve the present congested condition of the regular courts, and will thus be a benefit to the public.

"It will promote harmony between motorists—for very few men remain friends after they have been opponents in a real legal battle."

National officers of the A. A. A. are highly optimistic of the arbitration court's success.

They do not claim it will settle many large suits. But they contend it will clean up a multitude of small ones—differences arising out of broken fenders, jammed headlights, and other minor accidents.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14.—Two men were stabbed, one probably fatally, in a disturbance here tonight between Ku Klux Klan and opposing forces in a local dance hall.

PLEA FOR DAWES PLAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A plea by Ronald W. Boyden, unofficial American observer on the reparations commission, that this country apply the principle of the Dawes plan in reducing the total of the allied debt to the United States, was made at the forty-fourth annual meeting of the American Academy of political science today.

Toledo Has Chauffeur Police

PETER KROMENACKER, A "CHAUFFEUR-COP," ON DUTY.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 15.—"Chauffeur cops" are guarding the lives of school children here.

Fourteen taxi cab drivers of the Toledo Transfer Company guide traffic at busy corners near schools before and after classes are dismissed at appointed hours each day.

The city is too poor to provide traffic officers at each school, and the lives of many children were placed in jeopardy until the transfer company offered the services of its drivers.

The chauffeur-policemen are on duty on school days early in the morning, at noon and in mid-afternoon.

SIX USES FOR MOTOR BUS

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A. J. Brosseau, director of the National Chamber of Commerce, outlines the following profitable uses for motor buses when linked with electric railway operation:

1. In thin traffic regions, where business does not warrant investment in railway equipment.
2. In heavy traffic areas to handle local passengers.
3. In light traffic hours when costs of power station operation can be saved.
4. In developing new territory, as feeders to rail routes.
5. In city transportation, to meet public demand for bus service.
6. In interurban transportation, to meet public demand for bus service.

ROOM FOR MORE CARS

Tire companies in the United States are prepared for a tire output to supply a registration of 20,000,000 cars a year, according to tire manufacturers. These would require about 65,000,000 tires a year, they say.

PROSPECTS IN MEXICO

At least 500,000 autos are sure to be sold in Mexico once the highways are improved and there is better financing facilities for buying. This is the opinion of George F. Dauer, secretary of the foreign trade committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

$6.50 FOR AN AUTO

A public auction at Bayonne, N. J., resulted in the sale of a light popular car for $6.50. It is believed to be the lowest price ever paid for an auto.

NO PARKING ALLOWED

In many cities no automobile is permitted to stay at the curb unless attended. Even then the allotted time is short.

2560 MILES FOR $53

A Kelso (Wash.) motorist is said to have driven 2560 miles in a medium priced standard car at a cost of $53 for gas and oil. He had no repair on the entire trip.

ELIMINATE SCRATCHES

Scratches on a finished automobile can be eliminated by applying several coats of thin shellac until the scratch has been completely filled. When the last coat has dried it should be rubbed with crocus cloth and a little olive oil. A rub-down with a good body polish will render the touch-up inconspicuous and restore the surface to its original appearance.

HOW TO STOP CAR

Do not jam your brakes too suddenly. Begin to reduce your speed 50 feet or more from the stopping point and simply roll up and halt with a final and gentle application of the brakes. Release the brakes and then release them instead of putting them on and holding them there. Jamming on the brakes at high speed wears out the brake lining and loosens up the whole system.

Withers Child Buried Friday

The funeral of seven year old Mary Withers, youngest daughter of Judge and Mrs. D. P. Withers, who was fatally burned on Thursday, was conducted from the home, 1632 Main Street, yesterday afternoon, by Rev. M. J. S. Taylor, rector to Epiphany church, and Rev. Samuel T. Senter, D. D., pastor of Mount Vernon Church.

An overflowing measure of sympathy for the bereaved family was manifested by the presence of an unusual number of people. The services were simple. Including the burial service and an earnest prayer for solace by Rev. Dr. Senter. More than two hundred flower-bearers were required to carry the tributes of affection and sympathy to Green Hill cemetery where the body was committed to the grave with the comforting Episcopal church service. The pall bearers were W. W. Clark, J. G. Penn, Dr. C. Bruce Williams, godfather of the child; W. R. Hill, T. L. Starling and James I. Pritchett, Jr.

The flower bearers included: F. B. McFall, J. M. Foster, Charles K. Carter, W. E. Griggs.

Too Many Traffic Laws, Says Hanch

(By NEA Service.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 15.—There are too many traffic laws.

That is the belief expressed by C. C. Hanch, vice president of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, in an address here.

"American cities are placing the chief burden of traffic on their already over-worked police forces," said Hanch. "Instead of making studies of transportation needs and planning the routing of traffic and improvements on the basis of these studies."

"Every large city needs a traffic commission to study its railroad, electric and motor vehicle facilities and to map out plans of operation on a basis of maximum efficiency and service."

"The opening up of a few streets in many cities and the economic routing of commercial vehicle traffic will be helpful both to shipper and public."

"Speed is a relative matter, depending upon the time of day, the place, and the conditions of road and weather. What we need most is not the clamping down of an arbitrary speed suitable to the conditions."

"We need more parking facilities instead of more 'no parking' facilities at cost should be provided for the all-day parker, and everyone should be permitted to leave his machine at a given place long enough to attend to reasonable errands. Constructive rather than repressive traffic programs should be every city's goal."

NICKEL PLATE MERGER EXECUTIVES TO MEET

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Executives of the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio and "Nickel Plate" railroads which would form the nuclei for the four great trunk line systems of the east under a plan recently presented to the interstate commerce commission will meet here next week to consider any plan, favors the allocation of the Lehigh Valley to his system, with joint control of the Lackawanna by the New York Central and "Nickel Plate". New York Central officials, on the other hand, are understood to be angling for the Lehigh Valley, proposing that the Pennsylvania and Nickel Plate share trackage rights over the Lackawanna.

DAD has always wanted an open car. He likes freedom. He wants speed—and flexibility. He loves to open 'er up on a smooth country road and feel the wind whiz past his face.

But Mother . . . she wants comfort and protection—she's thinking of that rainy day when the youngsters have to go to school.

And here at last is a new-type car to meet this old-time family problem.

It's a glorious—joyous—free, airy open car when you want it.

Then when it storms it may be changed to a comfortable, weather-tight enclosed car with complete protection from wind and rain.

Thirty seconds is all it takes—simply lower the roller side enclosures, without even leaving your seat. You've never seen anything like it before.

The Duplex body is framed and shaped in steel. Upper and lower sections are integral. Thus its construction is substantial and its beauty lasting.

It banishes once and for all the trouble of attaching the old-type curtains—makeshift at best.

No more hurried efforts hunting for the right curtain while the storm beats in.

No more exposure, through holes torn in them, while trying to obtain, for the emergency, the protection given by a closed car.

To the man unwilling to sacrifice the thrill of open car motoring—to the woman who wants closed car protection right at her finger tips—this car offers a wonderful new adventure—it marks a new era in fine car possession.

In justice to yourself—see the new Duplex now. Only Studebaker makes it.

OLDER BOYS' CONFERENCE GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS

The Older Boys Conference of the Young Men's Christian Association which opened yesterday with more than one hundred boys in attendance continued today with a number of addresses and inspirational talks and reports. Yesterday was devoted to the welcoming ceremonies.

125 Boys in Attendance

As well as could be determined from the registration of out-of-town boys at the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday afternoon and evening, something like 125 boys, and many youths, coming from every section of the counties of Pittsylvania, Henry, Franklin, Halifax and other adjoining counties embraced in this district with a few from Roanoke and with speakers and leaders or workers from all portions of the State. On arrival these registered at the Y. M. C. A. where Boys' Secretary Jack Whitington welcomed and enrolled them. Besides the afternoon greetings and the assignment of the visiting youths to homes while in Danville, another big gathering with a spirited song service followed by an address by J. M. Binford, assistant superintendent of schools of Richmond city. This evening meeting closed before 8 P. M. in order to give the boys present an opportunity to accept the hospitality of the Girl Reserves of the Y. W. and the entertainment provided for them at the "Y. W.", and practically all of them did attend and had a thoroughly enjoyable hour. This closed the opening-day program, briefly sketched.

Among the men notably active in the organized boys' work of the State attending this conference are: Fred Thompson, of Richmond, big-brained and big-hearted boys' work secretary for the State work; D. V. Blayney, song leader and active director of boys' work; C. B. Loomis, another prominent worker in this field; L. E. Loope, of Roanoke; J. H. Binford, Richmond educator; George L. Sutherland, Petersburg secretary; B. B. Bland, of Ferrum, Va., who brought a bunch of boys delegates along with him. Besides the visiting youths in attendance, some 67 or 70 of the best known youths and boys of Danville, including some of the leaders in this city were present at both sessions yesterday.

Captain Wooding Speaks

At the opening session, after a fine song service, in which Mr. Blayney and Mr. Douglass, of Schoolfield "Y", succeeded in winning the participation of almost every boy present, a series of welcoming talks was made, the first by Hon. Harry Wooding, the veteran mayor of the city. Captain Wooding congratulated the boys that they live in an age of progress, opportunity and great development such as this and exhorted the boys to make their mark not only in material but in spiritual life. Speaking as an old man, he said, he imparted much stimulating and wholesome advice to the boys and closed with an eloquent appeal for clean living and high thinking and for equipping themselves for their responsibilities in this greatest era in world history. Other welcoming addresses and greetings were made in happy and serious vein by Walter W. Waddill, Superintendent of Schools W. C. Griggs, High School Principal Kenley J. Clark and by Hinton Gwynn of the boys of Danville. All these talks were marked by cordiality and enthusiasm, the speakers assuring the boys they were glad to have them here as guests of the city and welcomed them to the hearts and homes of the city. The visitors were given the freedom of the city and directed to ask for anything they wanted.

Miss Dollesau Speaks

Finally the visiting youths were welcomed by Miss Lula Dollesau in a fine, well phrased and spirited talk which was warmly applauded. Miss Dollesau, Girl Reserve secretary, and Miss Peggy Walton also contributed a welcoming greeting to the visitors and announced a social to be given them at the Y. W. building in the evening.

Responses in a similar vein were made by Fred Thompson, Mr. Sutherland, Mr. Bland and others.

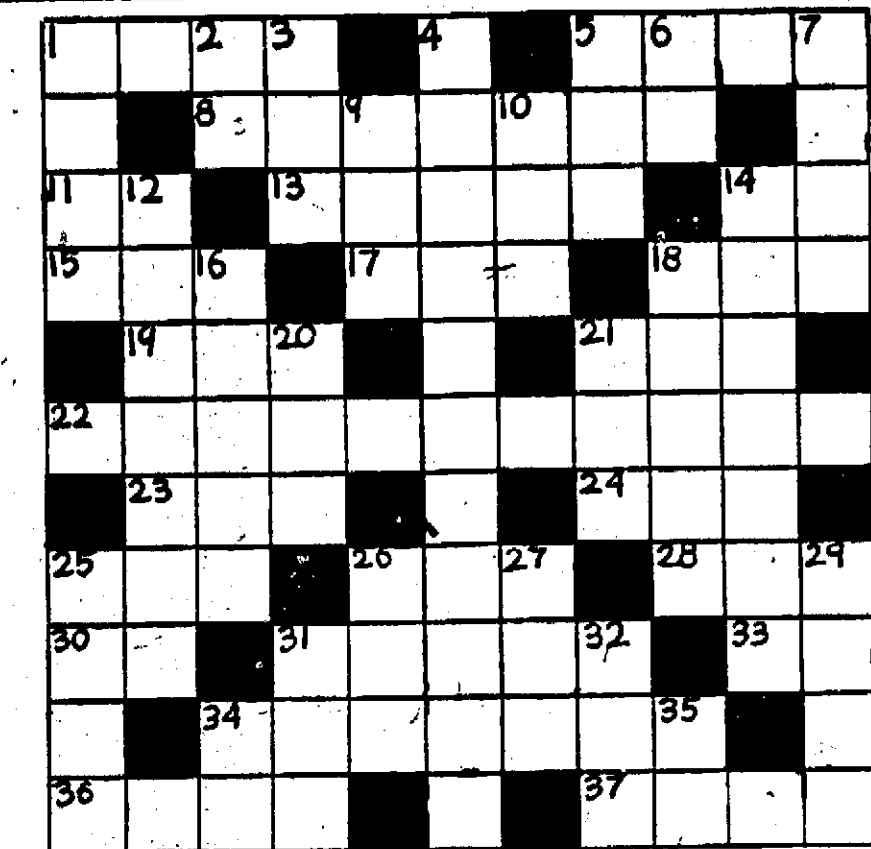

Russell Myers, of this city, presided at the opening meeting, but relinquished the chair to Mr. Blayney when the election of officers for the conference was in order. This proved an interesting feature of the afternoon. The boys were not a bit backward about nominating their favorites, and for each of the three officers to be elected not less than three persons were placed in nomination. The Danville boys were in the majority, but they were limited rather, they know because they were not sufficiently familiar with the other boys in nomination. A group of Danville Military Academy cadets, including a well known cadet leader, but the one named was not so well known outside cadet circles and so was defeated for the office for which he was placed in nomination. The results were finally posted on a blackboard as follows:

President, Hinton Gwynn.
Vice President, Marvin Watson.
Secretary-Treasurer, Hoffman Culpepper.

Thompson and another song, the gathering dispersed after a benediction.

In the evening at 7:30 in the Sunday school room of the First Baptist church, the conference reassembled and enjoyed a fine song service, with whistling as a variation. Finally singing and whistling were indulged in simultaneously by the several sections of the audience. Mr. Blayney proved highly successful in getting the music out of the boys' heads, and they seemed to be full systems, and notably devoid of diffidence or self-consciousness.

Colonel W. M. Kemper, superintendent of the Danville Military Academy, and C. B. Loomis, one of the visiting boys and one of the work directors, were introduced and acknowledged the presentation.

School Superintendent W. C. Griggs in a very pleasing introductory talk presented Assistant Superintendent J. M. Binford, of the Richmond schools, who was on the program to make an address on "Facing Our Task as Citizens," but who declined to speak in favor of "Being a Man". The speaker divided the word into its 3 letters and, with the aid of the boys, arrived at what the various letters "stand for." He lightened the homiletic character of his appeal to the boys with flashes of fun, humor and reminiscence, but his talk was characterized chiefly by its earnestness.

After the usual announcements for the morning, the conference adjourned a few minutes before 9 P. M. in order to enable the visiting and home boys to attend the social at the Y. W. building, and apparently all present at the church were in evidence in the merry throng of young people at the Y. W. The number present at the Y. W. was estimated at 250 or more. This social had been planned by the Freshmore and Jun-Sen girls of the Reserve and had been elaborately prepared for. The result of this preparation was evident in the beautifully decorated hall in the upper floor of the building on which the youths and boys were conducted on a tour around the world.

On arriving at the building the boys were met at the head of the first flight of stairs and supplied with "money" for the trip, this being in the primitive currency form of beans. On ascending another flight they found themselves in the first stage of their journey beautifully decorated booths having been prepared with great care and taste, each of which was labelled as some foreign country, and at each booth the last service refreshments were served appropriately for the country they represented. Italy, Spain, France, Japan, India, Holland and various other series represented by booths were presided over by quaint and charming little Dutch girls, Spanish señoritas, mantillas and make-up effective; Japanese girls in the colorful and flowing garb of the oriental girls; Spanish girls from the land of the siesta; girls of various nations in a bewildering variety of colors and styles. Suspended from the ceiling the various booths were ribbons of colored paper, and altogether the setting was a beautiful and charming one. When the throng of youths and young girls began its ceaseless shifting and movement, the holder was struck with the beauty, color and joy of the scene.

From 9 until 10 P. M. boys and girls enjoyed the social hour and everybody was merry. The Freshmore and the Jun-Sen girls, with the aid of others in the Y. W., had accomplished excellent results and this was true particularly of the pleasant social character of the occasion.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

This morning at 9 the conference will transfer the scene of its assembling to the Welfare Building at Schoolfield, where the forenoon program will be given. First, of course, is the song service led by Mr. Blayney and others. At 9:30 an address on "Our Task in the Church School" by Minor C. Miller is on the programme. Election of officers of the conference Sunday school will be followed by an address on "Our Task in Home Missions" by R. W. Miles, of Richmond. Sectional conferences will ensue at 10:45, with D. V. Blayney, P. E. Loope and C. B. Loomis leading. At 12:15 the boys will look pretty long enough to have their beauty struck. The afternoon will be given over

Buick Continues its Leadership

For the seventh consecutive year Buick has first choice of space at the National Automobile Shows. This signal honor is awarded annually by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce to the manufacturer-member having the largest volume of business for the preceding twelve months.

In winning and in maintaining this enviable position year after year, Buick has demonstrated conclusively that the true value of any automobile is reflected in the consistency with which the public buys it.

Since the introduction of the 1925 Buick models, public patronage has increased to an even greater degree.

A tribute to the Buick engineering skill and manufacturing ability that have provided newer and better Buick cars without departing in any way from the fundamentals of power, economy and dependability for which all Buicks have been famous.

Mrs. Harry Young, of Helena, Ark., who has been the guest of Miss Marian Boatwright, is now visiting Mrs. John Boatwright. Mrs. Young will join Miss Boatwright and Mrs. James in New York next week.

Mrs. Taylor C. Wilson and children, Elizabeth and Taylor C. Jr., of Hampton, and Mrs. Garland Kent, of Sanford, N. C., will be guests of Mrs. Harry Powell, Mount Vernon avenue, next week.

Mrs. Wilson and children will arrive today and Mrs. Kent will arrive tomorrow.

Mrs. E. B. Wood, of Virginia avenue, who has been quite sick at her home, following an operation for the removal of tonsils, is very much better.

Herman Aiken, who is on the Danville market with the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, is spending the week-end at his home, Fuqua Springs, N. C.

Dr. and Mrs. H. Sheldon East and little daughter, Dorothy Elizabeth, spent the week-end with Dr. East's parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. P. East, at 718 Jefferson street.

Mrs. P. W. Ricamore and little son, Wallace Parlett, are visiting at the Baptist parsonage, 718 Jefferson street.

Mrs. H. P. East was appointed superintendent and Mrs. Leftwich recently organized at Lee Street Baptist church.

Rev. H. P. East has returned from Bluefield, W. Va., where he has been attending the Baptist State Association.

K. M. Mears, field manager of the Embalmers' Supply Company, of Westport, Conn., is spending the week-end with his family in Danville.

Rev. J. Cleveland Hall, who has been holding a mission in St. Anns church, Greensboro, for the last ten days, will conclude the services there today. Dr. Hall goes from Greensboro to conduct another mission at St. Peter's Church, Norfolk.

IS THIS YOUR BIRTHDAY

SATURDAY, NOV. 15.—While you are going to be successful in business adventures, especially those in which you take the initiative to establish, your love affairs will be just as successful as you use good judgment.

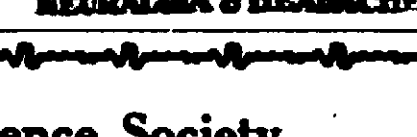

You are affectionate and are apt to permit your better judgment to go unused. Public speaking would be easy for you and you could make many friends.

Firmness of character, I cultivated now, will bring you the respect and confidence of all who know you.

SUNDAY, NOV. 16.—This would be a good day for you to resolve to break away from your personal surroundings and to start life's journey by profiting by the experience which has made you of value to others.

In doing this, however, be kind and sympathetic to others and surround yourself with friends who will benefit you.

You can bring out in yourself a magnetic personality that will carry you to great heights.

Christian Science Society
DANVILLE, VA.
Announces A

Free Lecture On Christian Science
—BY—
Mr. George Shaw Cook, C. S. B.
OF CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

Member of the Board of Lecturers of The Mother Church.
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

In The Masonic Temple Auditorium
Tuesday Evening, Nov. 18, 1924
AT EIGHT O'CLOCK.

The Public Is Cordially Invited.

Attending Convention.

Measdesma P. O. Kidd, A. L. Tuntall and M. D. Nicks are attending the W. T. U. convention in Chicago. The program will be broadcasted from Edgewater Beach hotel, Sunday evening, between 8 and 10 o'clock.

Eastern Star To Entertain.

The members of the Kaufman-Brydon Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star gave a delightful four-course dinner at the Blue Triangle Tea Room Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Mary Quinn Hicks, Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Virginia, who is here to instruct the Kaufman-Brydon Chapter, which has recently been organized. Covers were laid for forty-six.

Bazaar At Main Street.

One of the very delightful affairs of the past week was the annual bazaar which was held by the ladies of the Main Street M. E. church in the Main Street M. E. building on Friday, an affair in which all members of the Woman's Missionary Society and in fact, all members of the church, were greatly interested and contributed in every way to its success and the well-equipped kitchen of the church school which are so admirably adapted to all social gatherings, was particularly attractive on this occasion. The party of the room was furnished with small tables to callers for a very small sum, and the remainder of space was filled with large round tables, each holding a vase of flowers and covered with every variety of fancy and utility articles, suitable for household use and Christmas gifts.

Many people called during the day and the affair proved to be both socially and financially an unqualified success.

South Boston

(Special to The Bee)
SOUTH BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Miss Helen Joiner of Bethel Hill, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ray Wilburn on Main street.

Mrs. Luther Dodd, of Halifax, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. H. F. Fralin, of Danville, is visiting Mrs. S. C. Morton, on upper Main street.

Wallace Ballou and Charlie Hicks left yesterday morning for Blackstone where they will attend the football game between South Boston and the high school there.

Jack Ingram, of Greenboro, is in town on business.

W. H. Hall, of Rodden, is a business visitor in town.

Miss Bessie Jordan of Cluster Springs, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. H. F. Fralin, Miss Blanche Snead and brother Hunt Snead, and Harry Dixon motored to Danville Friday.

Mrs. J. B. Dickerson who has been very ill at her home on Main street, is able to be out again.

C. A. Duncan, of Cluster Springs, is quite sick at his home. He suffered a slight stroke of paralysis.

Big Load of Tobacco.
One of the largest single loads of tobacco brought into South Boston market this season aggregated 6,000 pounds. The tobacco—six carloads of it—was brought here on Thursday by a farmer from South Richmond, whose name was not ascertained. The local sales are good, and larger daily. Prices remain good and farmers are apparently well pleased with them.

Basketball Tournament.
The third game of the basketball tournament to decide the county championship will be played tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. The rural school champions will compete with South Boston to decide the county championship. The contest is being staged by the girls' teams. During the week-end of November 20-22 under the same conditions and regulations. Competent officials have been selected to handle the two tournaments. Much interest is being shown.

Mrs. M. T. Farley accompanied by Mrs. Arch and Allen Farley, motored to Danville yesterday.

Dr. T. B. Henderson, of Goldsboro, N. C., spent last week with his aunt, Mrs. M. E. Collins on Brook street.

Mrs. W. C. Broadwell and her aunt, Mrs. R. A. Talley, of Durham, N. C., were the week-end guests of Mrs. C. P. Mitchell on Wilburn avenue.

Mrs. Broadwell returned to her home Monday evening. Mrs. Talley will remain for some time, visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. R. A. Glascock continues quite ill at her home on Wilburn avenue.

Mrs. and Mrs. Henry Ford, of Virginia, brought their little daughter, Lillian, yesterday to the Halycon Hospital to be examined by Dr. H. S. Belk, for heart trouble and rheumatism.

Misses Hettie and Leon Woodson and N. P. Johnson, of Lynchburg, visited Misses Kittie and Cornelia Woodson last week-end.

Mrs. N. A. Dashazo is visiting relatives in Richmond this week.

Mrs. M. M. Irby was operated on yesterday at the Halycon Hospital for appendicitis, and is doing nicely.

Mrs. Effie Carter, of Meadsville, was in town shopping yesterday.

Miss Elizabeth Lea who has been seriously ill following an operation for appendicitis at the Halycon Hospital last Saturday is reported much better.

Lieut. and Mrs. Fred Quensen and children, left Friday for Camp Meade, Md., after a visit to Mrs. Quensen's parents, Col. and Mrs. Henry Quensen on Jefferson street.

Cynthia Grey Says:

Not so many years ago a woman was old when she was forty. There was nothing ahead of her but spectacles, black silk dresses and the wearing of her grandchildren. But this is not so any more! Whatever may be said for or against the mad, breathless age we live in, it is the best time for middle-aged women that this world has ever seen.

For the middle-aged woman today is not middle-aged at all. She is still young.

She has read the beauty hints as well as the chili-sauce recipes on the woman's page. And she has worked hard to keep her complexion and her slim figure.

What has happened is that the woman of forty has decided to be beautiful to remain beautiful.

It used to be considered a sin to use cold cream and face powder. The woman who did was not "nice."

Providence has changed the lines and wrinkles on a woman's face; and she didn't lift a finger, much less an electric vibrator, to stop them!

Today every neighborhood has its beauty shop as well as its corner grocery.

Isn't considered, wicked any more to look as rosy and pretty and sleek as possible. It isn't even necessary to look your age any more. In fact, its quite important not to do that very thing.

So that forty finds a woman eager and ready to do the things she could not do when she was forty.

There was nothing ahead of her but spectacles, black silk dresses and the wearing of her grandchildren.

But this is not so any more! Whatever may be said for or against the mad, breathless age we live in, it is the best time for middle-aged women that this world has ever seen.

CHESTER HAS RECEIVED LOADS OF LETTERS BUT HE IS STILL WAITING TO HEAR FROM Y-O-U. HE HAS THREE DANDY PRESENTS THAT HE IS GOING TO GIVE TO THE THREE LITTLE GIRLS OR BOYS WHO WRITE HIM THE BEST LETTERS- ADDRESS CHESTER GUMP- % THIS PAPER-

OH GEE- THIS IS MRS. ZANDER'S PICTURE - GOLLY, I'D LIKE TO SEE HER- SHE ALWAYS TREATED ME SO NICE- WHEN I WENT TO HER HOUSE SHE USED TO GIVE ME THE NICEST DOUGHNUTS - GEE, SHE WAS A NICE WOMAN -

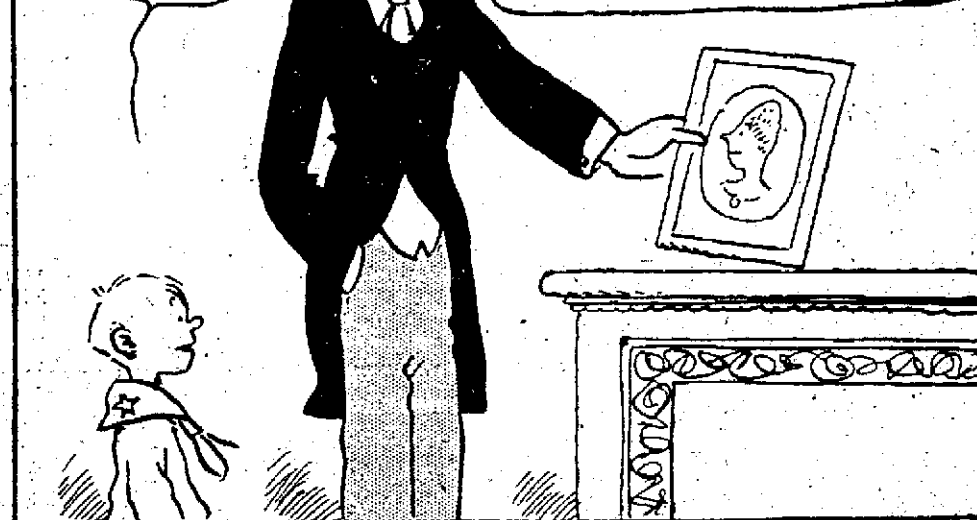

YES INDEED, CHESTER - THERE ARE NOT MANY JEWELS OF WOMANHOOD IN THE WORLD LIKE HER - I SUPPOSE IT'S A LONG TIME SINCE YOU'VE SEEN HER -

OH NO, UNCLE BIM - THE DAY I WAS LEAVING FOR AUSTRALIA SHE SAID SHE WISHED SHE WAS GOING TO MAKE A TRIP TO THAT WONDERFUL COUNTRY - SHE THINKS AUSTRALIA IS THE NICEST PLACE IN THE WHOLE WORLD -

I WISH SHE WAS HERE NOW - I'LL BET SHE'D LIKE TO LIVE IN THIS NICE BEAUTIFUL CASTLE, UNCLE BIM -

I'M AFRAID NOT, CHESTER - IT WOULDN'T BE LIVELY ENOUGH HERE - NO, I'M JUST A LONESOME OLD BACHELOR - I DON'T THINK SHE'D CARE FOR MY COMPANY - SHE'D PREFER A YOUNG MAN WHO COULD DANCE AND IS MORE UP-TO-DATE THAN I AM -

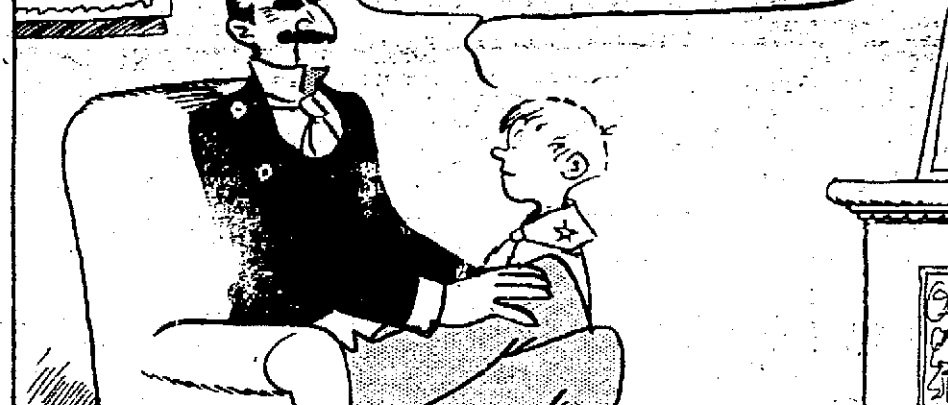

OH, NO SHE DOESN'T - MRS. ZANDER SAID SHE DOESN'T CARE MUCH FOR THE YOUNG MEN OF TODAY -

I'M SURPRISED AT THAT, CHESTER - HOW DO YOU KNOW? DID MRS. ZANDER TELL YOU?

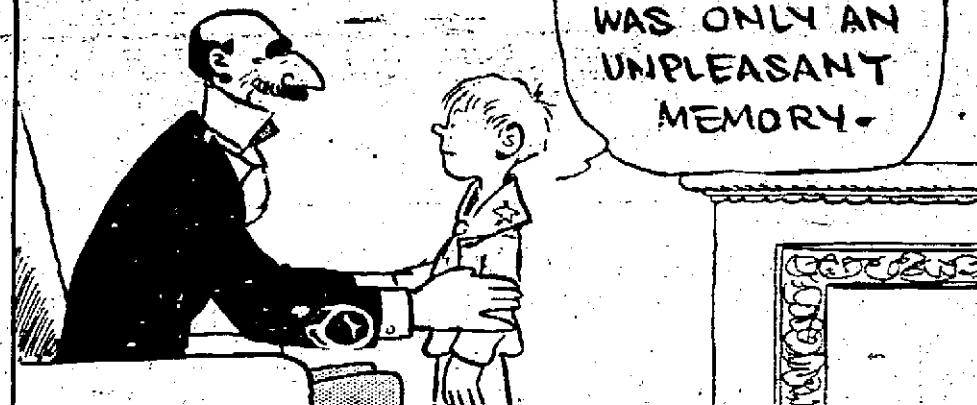

NO, SHE DIDN'T TELL ME, BUT I WAS AT A PICTURE SHOW WITH MAMA AND MRS. ZANDER AND MAMA SAID SHE THOUGHT RUDOLPH VALENTINO WAS VERY ATTRACTIVE AND MRS. ZANDER SAID VALENTINO WAS ALL RIGHT BUT SHE LIKED A MAN WHO WAS MORE MATURED - MORE DIGNIFIED - A MAN WHO HAD REALLY ACCOMPLISHED SOMETHING GREAT IN THE WORLD - A MAN A WOMAN COULD LOVE AS WELL AS RESPECT -

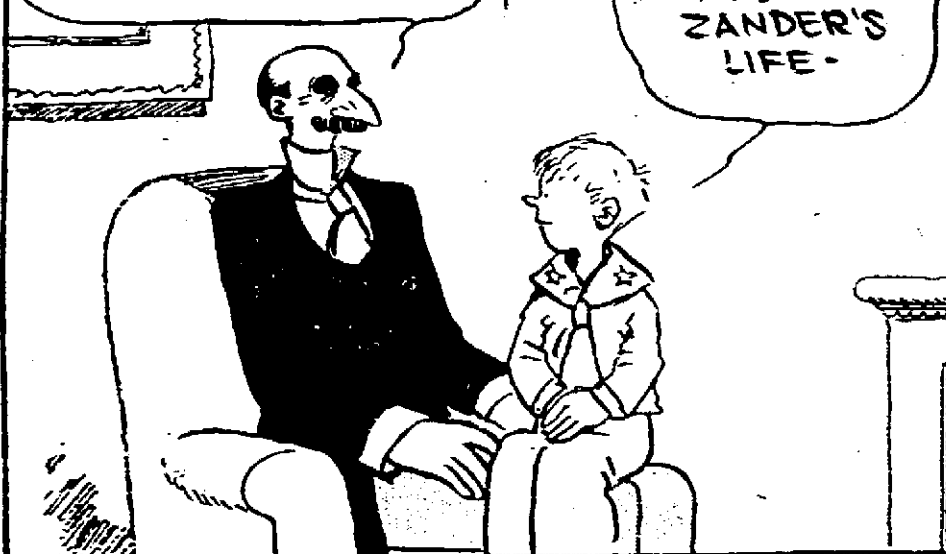

I WONDER WHO SHE COULD MEAN - DO YOU THINK SHE COULD MEAN THAT FELLOW CARLOS THAT IT WAS RUMORED SHE WAS ENGAGED TO -

OH NO - I HEARD HER TELL MY MAMA THAT CARLOS WAS ONLY AN UNPLEASANT MEMORY -

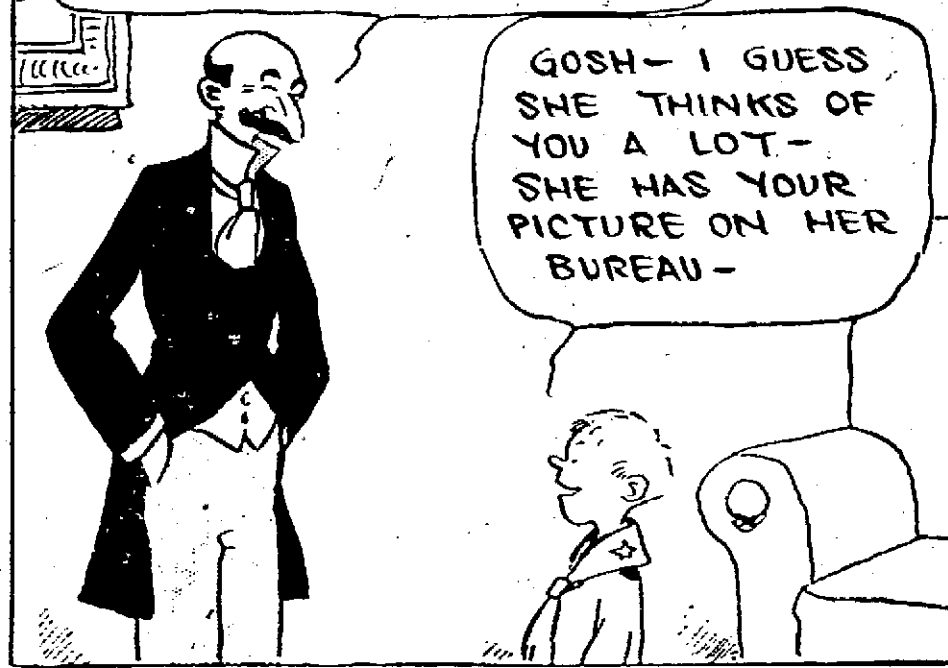

BUT I SUPPOSE SHE HAS HUNDREDS OF OTHER ADMIRERS - A BEAUTIFUL CREATURE LIKE SHE IS WITH ALL HER WOMANLY QUALITIES IS A MAGNET FOR EVERY HEART -

I HEARD MY MOTHER TELL PAPA THERE WAS ONLY ONE GREAT LOVE IN MRS. ZANDER'S LIFE -

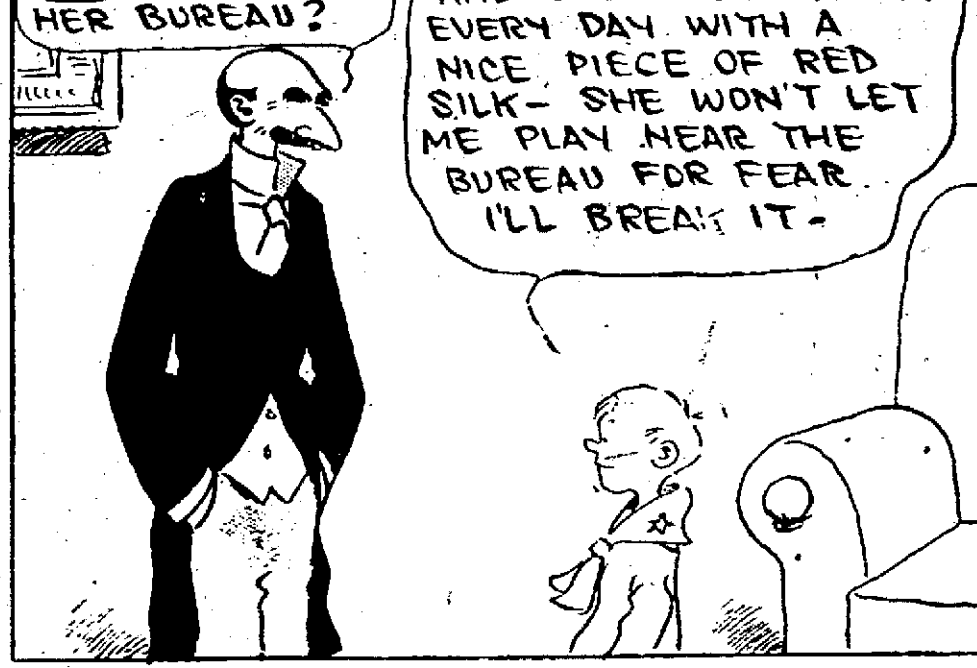

I WONDER WHO COULD HAVE BEEN THE LUCKY MAN HONORED WITH SUCH A PRICELESS GIFT - I DON'T SUPPOSE SHE EVER SPARES A THOUGHT FOR ME -

GOSH - I GUESS SHE THINKS OF YOU A LOT - SHE HAS YOUR PICTURE ON HER BUREAU -

ARE YOU SURE OF THIS? ARE YOU PERFECTLY SURE THAT MRS. ZANDER HAS MY PICTURE ON HER BUREAU?

SURE I'M SURE - IT HAS A PRETTY GOLD FRAME AROUND IT AND IT'S THE ONLY PICTURE ON THE BUREAU AND SHE DUSTS IT OFF EVERY DAY WITH A NICE PIECE OF RED SILK - SHE WON'T LET ME PLAY NEAR THE BUREAU FOR FEAR I'LL BREAK IT -

AND TO THINK I THOUGHT SHE HAD FORGOTTEN ME -

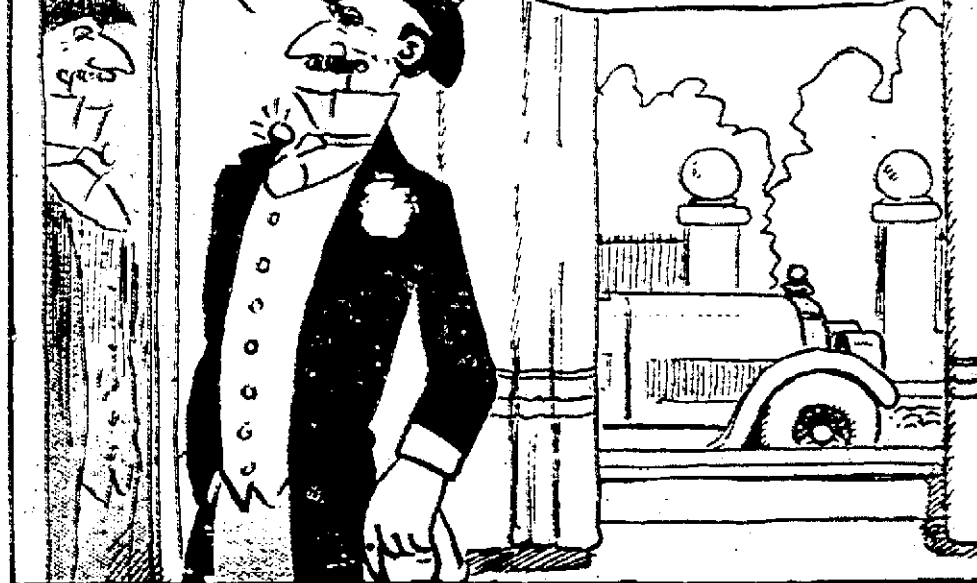

SHE DON'T FORGET YOU - EVERY TIME SHE COMES TO OUR HOUSE THE FIRST THING SHE DOES IS ASK MY PAPA AND MAMA IF THEY'VE HEARD FROM YOU AND HOW YOU ARE AND EVERYTHING -

AH, MY LITTLE MAN, CHESTER - YOU'RE A BRICK - IF SANTA CLAUS DOESN'T TREAT YOU WELL NEXT CHRISTMAS I HOPE HIS REINDEER GO LAME - YOU REMEMBER THAT LITTLE ELECTRIC WAGON YOU WANTED? I'M GOING TO ORDER THAT FOR YOU TOMORROW - AND I DON'T THINK A LITTLE CANDY WILL HURT YOU TODAY, EITHER - HOW WOULD A NICE BIG 5-LB. BOX OF FRESH CHOCOLATES APPEAL TO YOU? GET YOUR HAT AND WE'LL GO TO THE MOVIES -

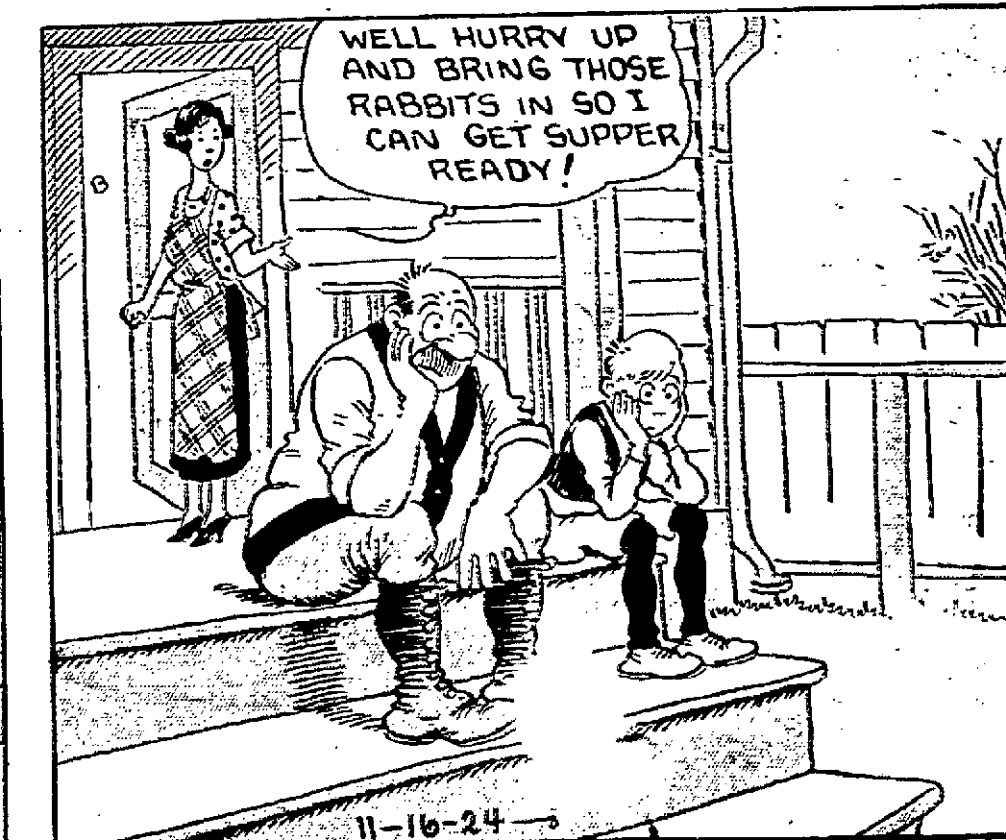

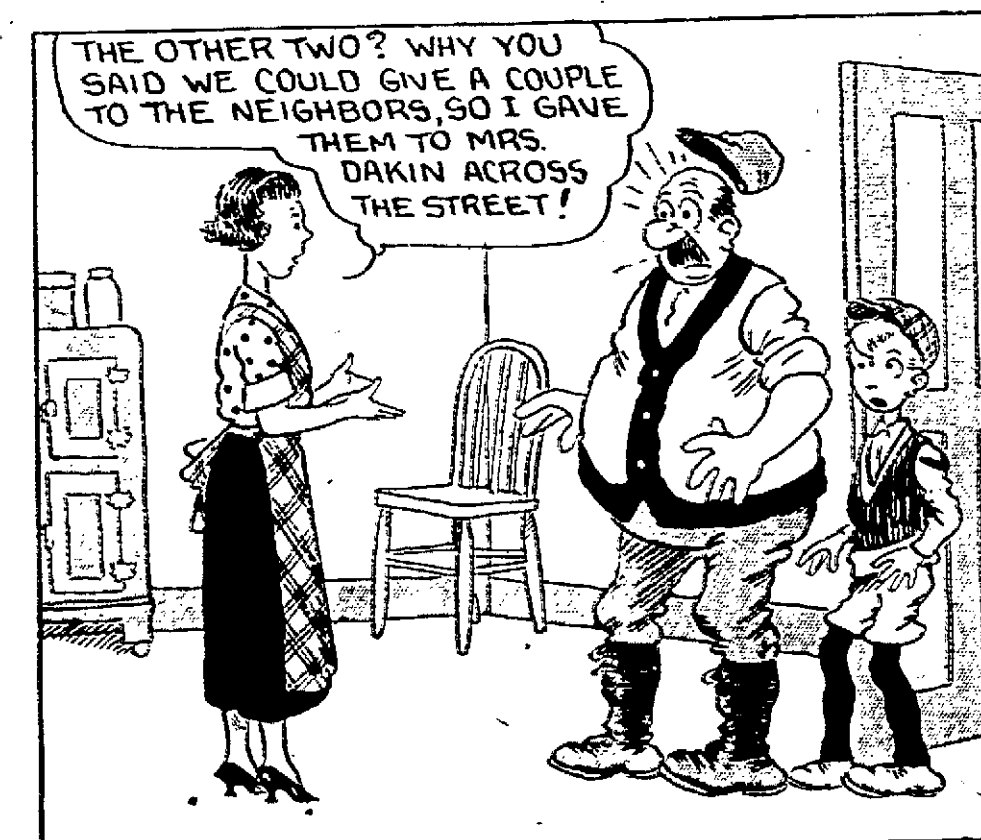

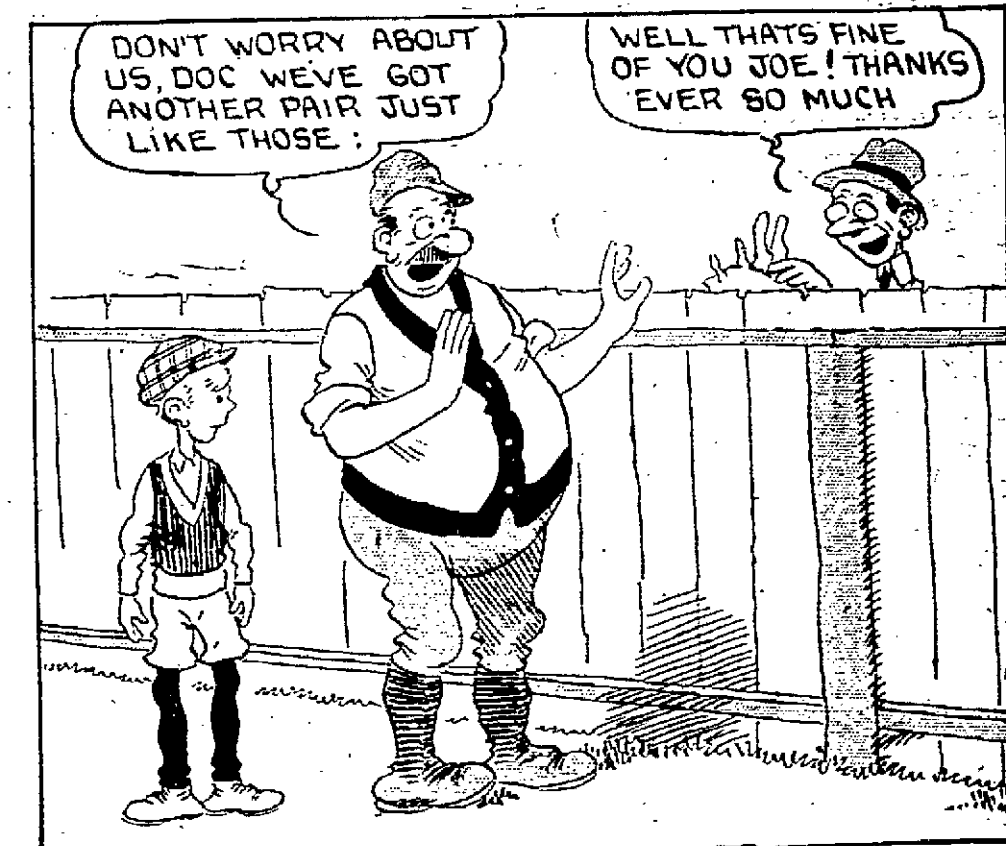

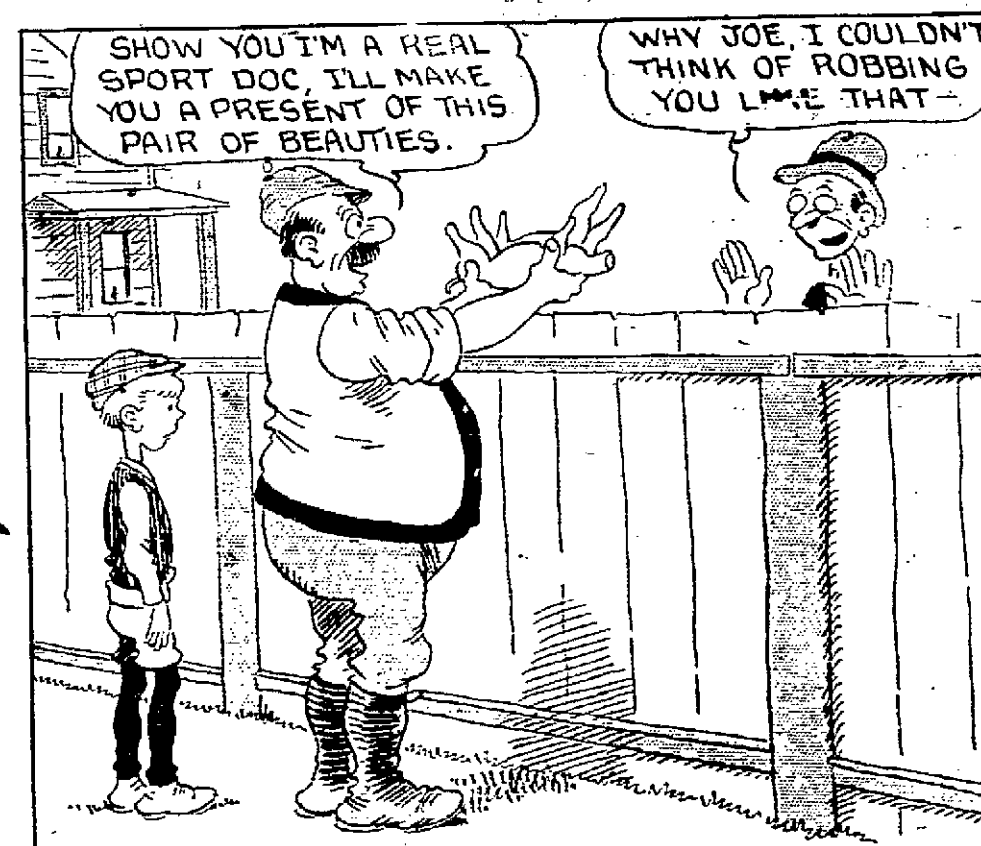

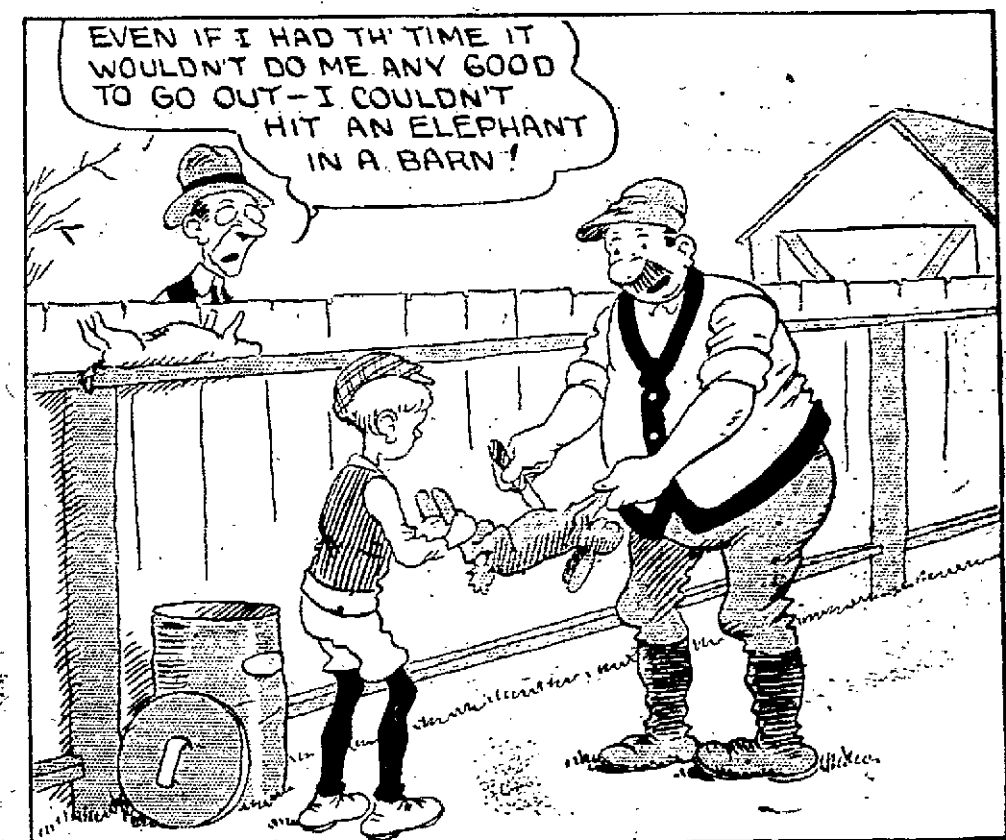

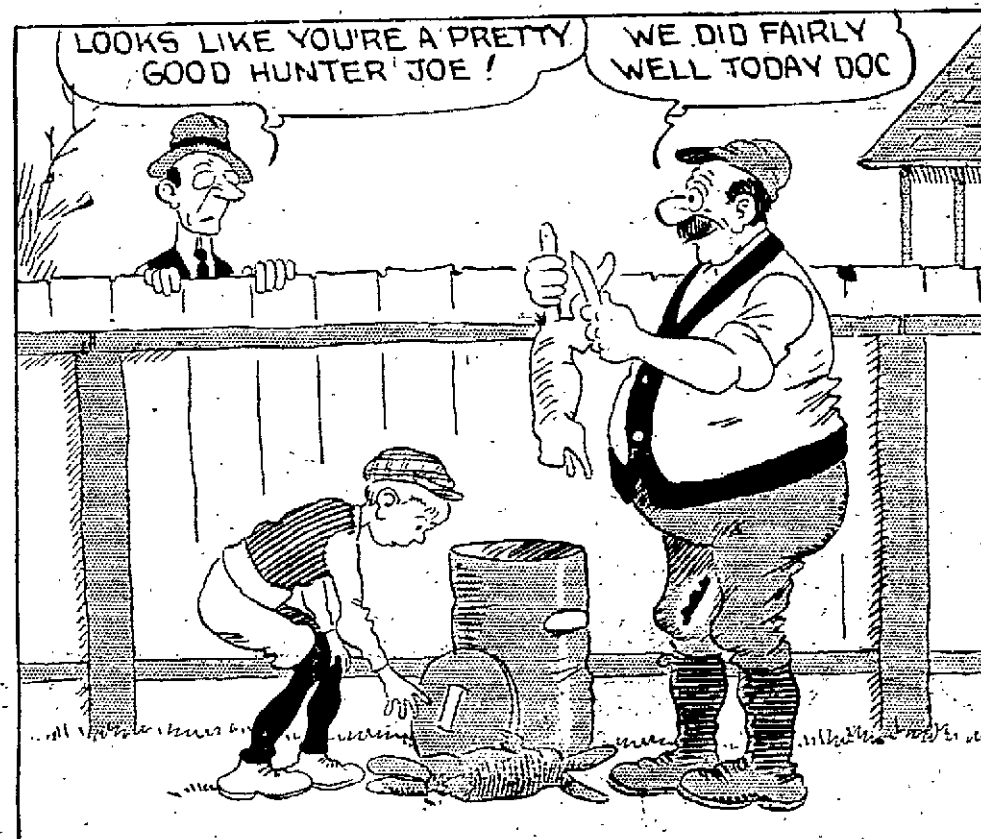

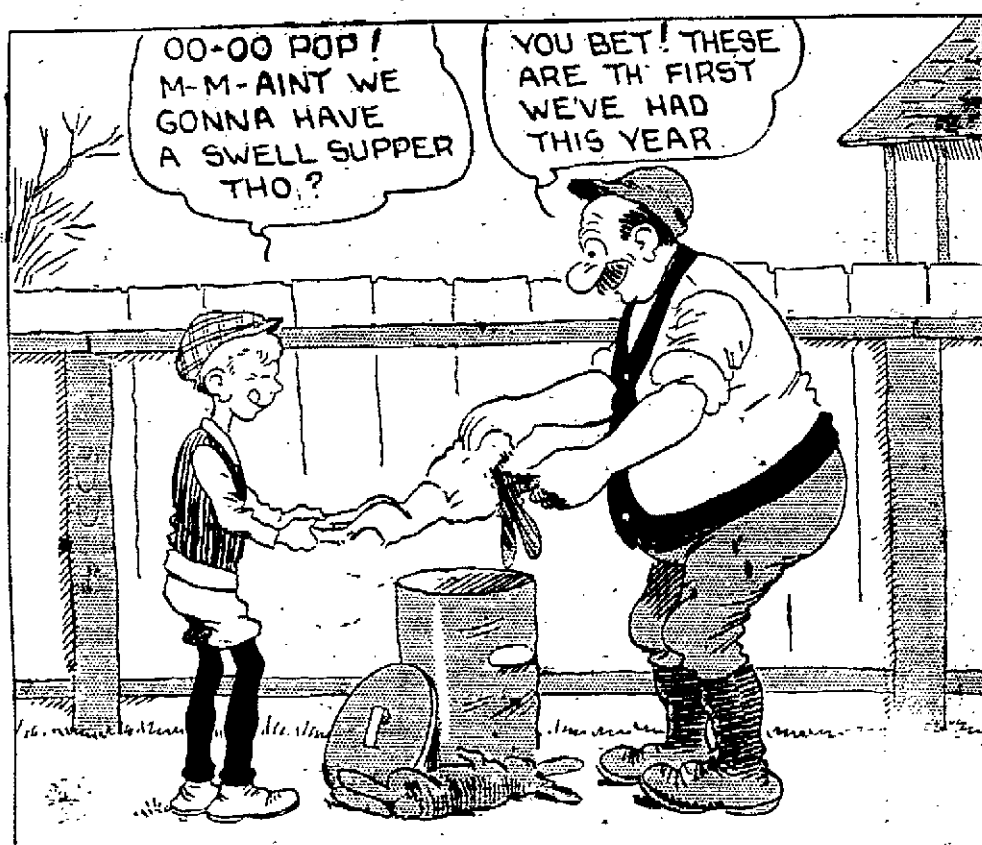

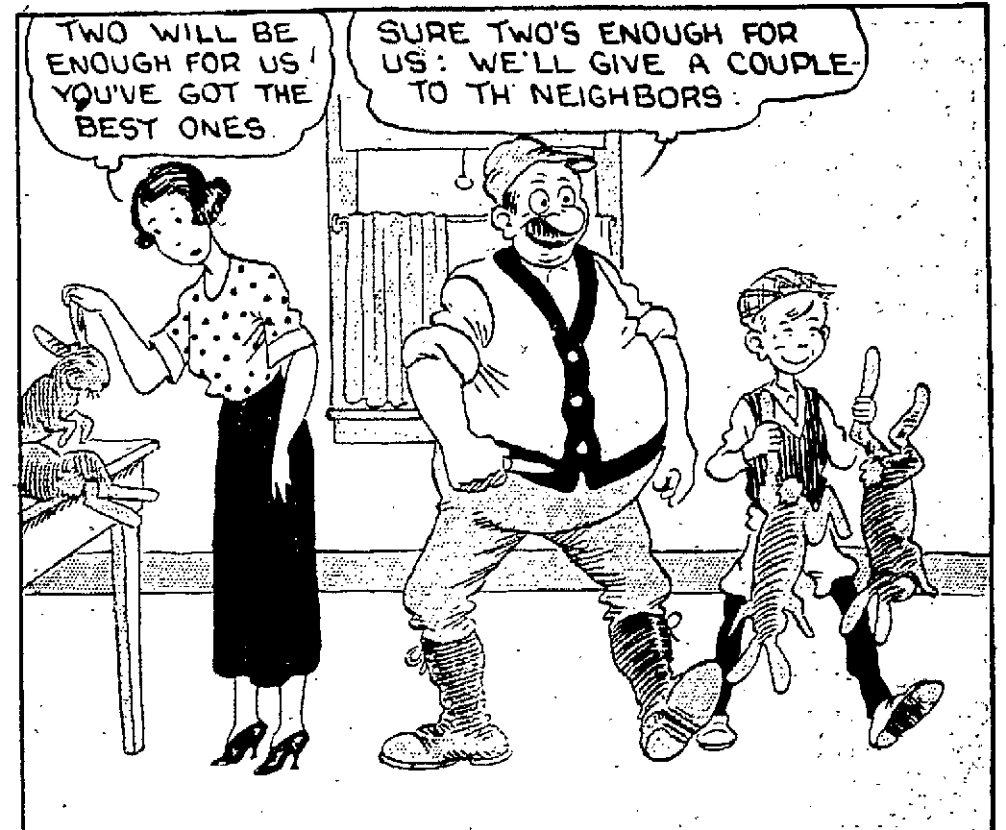

IF I JUST HAD A BOY OF MY OWN - SINCE HE CAME IT'S JUST LIKE LETTING A FLOOD OF SUNSHINE INTO A DARK ROOM - WHAT I WOULDN'T DO FOR ONE OF MY OWN - WHAT A CHRISTMAS HE COULD HAVE - WHAT A SANTA CLAUS I COULD BE - I'D ARRANGE 365 HOLIDAYS EVERY YEAR FOR HIM - I'D BE THE WORLD'S CHAMPION FATHER -

Judge Calls Down a Trial Lawyer

By ARTHUR L. Melford,
(Universal Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—"You have accused this woman of misconduct, and she is going to have a chance to defend herself—and you are going to pay for it."

With his eyes ablaze with indignation, Supreme Court Justice Richard P. Lydon today pounded his desk as he hurled the foregoing at Joseph W. Spencer, counsel for the millionaire merchant, Francis Herman Roshek.

It was during argument on a motion in behalf of Mrs. Marie G. Roshek for $1,000 monthly alimony and suitable counsel fees for her attorney Edward J. Reilly, pending trial of her suit for a separation that Spencer took occasion to launch an attack upon the character of Mrs. Roshek.

Spencer dropped into his seat as Justice Lydon continued in reprimanding.

"You have said you are going to counter-claim for a divorce. I warn you that unless you do you are perpetrating a fraud upon this court. I won't for a minute consider these statements you are making now, and I will be frank to say I do not approve of the manner in which you are handling this case."

Opposing counsel varied widely in their estimation of Roshek's income.

Attorney Reilly declared that the Rosheks had lived at the rate of $20,000 a year the last few years of their married life, while Spencer told the court that his client's income for the past year did not amount to more than $8,000.

The Rosheks, for the past several weeks have been engaged in litigation over the custody of their 14-year-old son, Franklin J. Roshek. The latter was placed in the Clason Point military academy a few days ago by order of Supreme Court Justice Garigan, pending outcome of Mrs. Roshek's suit, and her husband threatened counter-claim for a divorce.

CLOSING COTTON LETTER
(Courtesy Thomson and McKinnon.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—In its present temper the market seems incapable of any decline of more importance than was anticipated in our letter of yesterday.
The truth of the matter lies in the fact that the public believes in higher prices for cotton and declines are met with indifference, while any disposition of the market to advance in the signal for general assistance all along the line. We are not looking at the large movement or considering the very modest revival that the spinning industry has so far shown but would prefer to follow the speculative current which points to a higher market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—With less than 5,000 tons raws remaining unsold in Cuba renewal of interests in preferred position over pig was not surprising. Thus far, however, very little if any inquiry has developed for December shipment. The recovery in spring options has been almost wholly sympathetic with the tight spot market and around current levels appear quite high enough.

YOUR MONEY BACK

"7th Heaven," a John Golden Production direct from an engagement of 754 capacity performances in New York City is to be presented at the Majestic Theatre, Monday night, Nov. 17.

I know that this production is the best of its kind in America and worthy of your patronage.

Mr. Golden has never presented a failure nor a play with an unclean line.

He has an unique record among play producers—has supervised every production personally—has never sent us a second rate organization and has sponsored such plays as "Lightnin'," "3 Wise Fools," "Thank You" and "1st Year."

I personally guarantee this attraction and will refund the money to any dissatisfied patron.

Our theatre-goers have complained that I do not give them enough good spoken dramas.

ONE IS COMING NOW

"7th HEAVEN"

Is a great drama of love, laughter and thrills and I unhesitatingly guarantee the attraction.

Dreams
each has its own MEANING

Women quite often dream of clothes. They see in their visions beautiful gowns, hats, etc. hanging in their wardrobes.

When they awaken they often find that the colors and designs of the gowns remain fresh in their minds, and a great many times their new creations carry out the ideas received in their visions.

These dreams are significant. A well-filled wardrobe may signify the approach of an early marriage and often predicts success in business and social world.

Interpretations.

Clouds of despair, which have gathered from trivial worries, will disappear if you see yourself shining in a choir.

To be paying out money, as for bills, taxes or to a group of employees or friends, is a good omen that you will always have plenty.

Uncle Sam Has Own Car

(By NEA Service.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—They call it "Bruce's Chariot."
Really the car belongs to Uncle Sam. But C. S. Bruce of the Bureau of Standards operates it—which is no mean feat.

This government-owned silver—unlike any other automobile in the world—is made up of 90 pieces of apparatus that tell the complete story of what happens to a car when it's running.

The apparatus on "Bruce's Chariot" tells such things as the number of explosions in each cylinder, the weight of the air used by the engine, just how much work the piston does in sucking in air and gas, and other vital facts.

The stove-pipe apparatus seen above is used to measure wind velocity and to obtain wind protection. The car is being used in government tests—with a view to improving motor efficiency and performance.

"BRUCE'S CHARIOT"

Minstrel Audience Very Appreciative

The "Lasses" White All-Star Minstrels gave two performances at the Majestic theatre yesterday—the first minstrel show of the season. Although both audiences were only fair sized ones, they were appreciative and closely followed Lasses White, Billy Doss, Bobby Burns, Dan Holt and the other funmakers, also the singers, dancers and musicians in a well presented program of typical minstrelsy.

While "Lasses" White received his share of applause which he well deserved, Billy Doss probably won the laurels as the star character of the performance. Doss, who made his initial appearance in Danville last year, needed no introduction yesterday to theatre-goers. He captivated the fun-lovers with his dialogues, monologues and songs in a manner which no comedian but Doss can do it. Shrugging his shoulders, probably in a lesser degree, White also provoked roars of laughter in his skits. White has always been one of the big favorites in Danville.

The show as a whole was a marked improvement over last year. Several singers with good voices have been added and a number of renditions last night brought forth storms of applause which resulted in encores over and over again. Some of the songs which made a hit were "Waiting for Sunrise" sung by Paul Steen, "West of the Great Divide" sung by Marcel Jones, "You're in Love With Every One" sung by Jimmy McDonald and "I Know You Belong to Somebody Else" sung by Frank Long.

Following the first act of singing of sentimental songs and catchy tunes, with end men jokes, all given amid an elaborate setting, a plantation skit, typical of minstrel shows was presented. Billy Doss occupied the footlights for about twenty minutes and it might be said not one of the twenty minutes was a dull one. An orchestra heralded as "Jazz Hounds" played popular numbers and the final act followed in the form of a comedy playlet, filled with plenty of whole-some comedy furnished by White and Dan Holt.

It was a "minstrel" audience through and through as evidenced by the keen enthusiasm for the program of music, song and mirth, which lasted for two hours and a half.

MORNING STOCK LETTER
(Courtesy Thomson and McKinnon.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—We hear a good deal of reaction around here. Everyone has it in mind. A popular question is, "When will the reaction come?" If you will look over the stock list you will find that we have been getting reactions every day but not throughout the list and it is possible that through the continuation of this process, some selling off others moving forward, that an important set-back will be postponed for quite a while. Of course this depends on a good deal on day to day developments. Take for instance the government suit against the Pan-American to cancel oil leases. The case is about closed and the decision if adverse, could easily start something but looking ahead at the bigger proposition before us, set-backs will be temporary. Ultimately they will all be higher and a boom in business is already started. $21,000,000 worth of rolling stock ordered in one week is something worthy of attention.
